PREMIER ANNOUNCES FEDERAL ELECTION THIS YEAR

City Moves To Expropriate In The Dardanelles

City Council Votes to Secure Remaining Property Required for Sixty-foot Road in The Dardanelles; Roadway to Cost $45,000 and Expropriation Likely to be $25,000; Loan By-law Would Go Before Ratepayers Later.

The city owns a major interest in the property required for the widening of the narrow part of Fort Street known as the Dardanelles, and is proceeding to an early expropriation of the remaining property, it developed before the City Council yesterday evening. The probable cost of expropriation of the remaining property was placed by one alderman at $25,000, and the cost of widening at a further $45,000.

Close on sixty per cent of all property required on the north and south sides of the street for additional road allowances, to give a road, width of sixty feet, is already in the hands of the corporation. It was announced by Mayor Anson.

Some of the property was donated freely, conceded towards the scheme. Other road allowances required were secured for the rehabilitation of outstanding taxes on the property; while in a few isolated instances a harder bargain was driven by the owners.

The city has been seeking titles to the required road allowances for a long term of years under successive administrations. The time had now come to take possession of the remainder, said His Worship, who has carried on the burden of the negotiation with property owners since the first of the war.

A recent change in legislation dealing with municipal expropriation favors the city in its venture. It was stated, in that after the refusal of a reasonable offer for the land it can expropriate summarily and enter into possession of the property, compelling dissenting owners to sue for their interest in the civil courts. The determination of what is a "reasonable offer" has been fairly well fixed by the average equivalent paid for the sixty per cent already in the city's possession. It was further explained.

Capital City Plan Laid Before Premier By Large Delegation

Formal Request Made for Grant of $25,000 Annually for Five Years in Aid of Beautification of Victoria, as Capital Worthy of Great Province; City Council, Chamber of Commerce, Service Clubs and Leading Citizens United in Support of Proposals.

Waiting on the Provincial Government to present a formal request for support of plans looking to the development of Victoria and its beautification as the capital city of the Province, a delegation of fifty members, representative of the leading organizations and business enterprises called on Premier Tomin this afternoon.

The special request of the delegation was that a grant of $25,000 per annum be set aside by the Province for five years to assist in a permanent plan of beautification. Such a grant, it was urged, would be administered solely by an independent commission of voluntary members distinct from either the Province or the city, who would follow the course taken by the Ottawa City Commission in the development of the Dominion's capital.

The delegation included representatives of the Provincial Legislature, the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Club, the Women's Canadian Club, the I.O.O.F., the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club, the Oyo Club, the Automobile Club of British Columbia, the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, the Kinmen, the Victoria Horticultural Society, the Royal Society of St. George, the Native Sons of Canada and the Native Sons of British Columbia.

The delegation was ushered into the office of the Premier at the Parliament Buildings, where its members were introduced by Reginald Hayward, senior member for Victoria in the Provincial Legislature. H. D. Twigg and James H. Beatty, other members for Victoria, also attended to give their support to the delegation.

YOUNG MAN FIGHTS THUG IN HIS HOME

Vancouver Resident Wounded Over Heart With Knife Before He Routs Robber

Vancouver, May 6.—Irving Keenleyside, twenty-one, escaped with a wound a half-inch deep over his heart when a burglar whom he had interrupted in his home here early this morning struck at him with a hunting knife. Keenleyside heard someone prowling about his home on West First Avenue and went to investigate, carrying a rifle with him. A man was in the dining-room leaning over a tablecloth spread on the floor, in which the family silverware had been placed. As Keenleyside approached the burglar swung around suddenly and felled him with a water pitcher. As he recovered the man plunged toward him with a hunting knife. The youth managed to strike the thug on the jaw, but the latter came back at him with the knife. It inflicted a wound over Keenleyside's heart, but after a fierce struggle he managed to twist the knife from the intruder's hands. The burglar broke away and fled. Keenleyside gave chase and fired at him with his rifle. The man disappeared in the darkness. The burglar got away with fifty dollars from an upper floor. Keenleyside's wound is not considered dangerous.

WHEAT PRICES SHOWING GAINS AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, May 6.—Foreign buyers, active in the North American market again, chased wheat from the Winnipeg wheat pit to-day. Wheat values surged upward from the opening going and maintained almost every advance, closing 14 cents to 15 cents a bushel higher. More than 1,500,000 bushels of Manitoba wheat were reported sold for export during the last twenty-four hours, and cables reflected a generally improved demand. Opening prices were about 1 cent higher, and as the market worked upward it met with only slight resistance.

Again, October wheat recorded the widest gain, finishing up 1 1/2 cents at $1.11. May was 1 1/2 cents higher at $1.06, and July 1 1/2 cents at $1.08 1/2. Traders also paid attention to reports from Europe of crop damage to wheat areas in Italy, France and Hungary. Too much rain has accounted for damage in these countries.

RIOTING SPREADS

Delhi, Delhi Province, India, May 6.—From the Indus to the Ganges, across the thousand-mile miles of India's length, spread riot and disorder to-day. As Mahatma Gandhi, Oxford-educated leader of the great empire's Nationalists, endured the second day of his imprisonment, police fired on mobs in Delhi and Calcutta and battled crowds in Simla and Bombay. Two persons were killed in rioting in the heart of Delhi to-day. They were both natives. The Delhi Infantry and eight armoured cars established a state of armed defense this afternoon. A virtual state of war prevailed in the Chandi Chowk, principal thoroughfare of Delhi. Through this street the armored cars kept up a continual patrol. Entrances to all civil buildings were guarded by troops. The Chief Commissioner immediately following the riot promulgated section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code forbidding the assembly of more than five persons at any point. FIFTEEN WOUNDED
Fifteen Indians were wounded at Panchanala, on the outskirts of Calcutta, great city at the mouth of the Ganges River in eastern India. Attacked violently with bricks by an excited crowd seeking to halt operations of electric light and railway plants, police fired into the crowd. The Indians had been seeking to enforce a halt or stoppage of work in protest against Gandhi's incarceration. The district magistrate and the police superintendent of Howrah, near Calcutta, were attacked by a mob this afternoon as they were driving alone in their car. Both were armed, however, and dispersed the rioters by threatening them with revolvers. Three thousand Gandhi men rushed the Farel mill area at Bombay in an effort to intimidate strike-breakers, but the European mill superintendent dispersed the crowd at the point of a pistol. Mill owners in their motor cars were jeered and stoned by angry adherents of the Mahatma. Two-thirds of all the spinning of India operate in Bombay's cotton-spinning factories, along the shore of the Arabian Sea in west central India. Fully thirty persons were injured in clashes with police at Jalandhar. Two of the victims were near death after attempts to observe a sympathy strike, in which police charged into a crowd. Similar disturbances, protesting Gandhi's arrest, were reported from Lahore. (Concluded on Page 14)

Constructive and favorable criticism was given the vocal class No. 12, vocal solos for boys or girls under thirteen years, at the Metropolitan United Church, by Mr. Gibson, who voiced his pleasure at being chosen to adjudicate at the festival, and stated that he had found some splendid singers especially among the boys at the morning session, and that all contestants had acquitted themselves in a splendid manner. In point of numbers, Mr. Gibson stated that the boys' voices heard this morning surpassed those of boys in Winnipeg in a probable ratio of four to one, a condition which he attributed to the climate of Victoria. He urged all contestants to create a feeling of battle in their work and to uphold the high standard of the Victoria Musical Festival. ### Fly Fisherman Finds Thrills At Goldstream

From a deep pool underneath one of the bridges at Goldstream on the Island Highway a seven-pound salmon was landed yesterday by T. R. Hodgins, expert fly fisherman, who has come from California to spend the summer with his father, Col. C. R. Hodgins, 8000 Road, when Mr. Hodgins first hooked the fish on a fly his expectations did not extend beyond a large trout or small steelhead. He had only a light trout line. However, a salmon it was, and with the levitation of the stream Mr. Hodgins struggled for one hour and a half.

The presence of such a fish in Goldstream at this time will stir the enthusiasm of anglers. Though the pool in which it met its Waterloo was about four feet deep, the water in some places is very shallow—barely a matter of inches. The whole episode goes to prove that the grand day of the patient fly-fisherman, which to the amateur always seems far away, is ever close at hand, and that in at least one pool of the many along the stream, the fish await the expert.

PRINCE AT TABLE THE ME OF NEW R.A. PAINTING

Academy Opening on May 5
Marks Start of London Season

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London, May 6.—The hanging committee of the Royal Academy is now at work selecting the pictures which shall appear in the summer exhibition.
No fewer than 10,000 pictures have been sent in by ambitious artists, and it is the work of the committee, consisting exclusively of Royal Academicians, to select 1,500. It is a long and tedious task, although many a picture is rejected without more than a moment's consideration, or thought of the heartbreak the decision may cause.
There are forty full Academicians to be first considered. Each of them is entitled to submit six pictures, and only in extraordinary circumstances would the hanging committee dare to reject one of them. This has happened on occasions, and works of other well-known painters who do not sport
the title of R.A. have been similarly treated.

A picture of great interest which has been submitted is Howard Robinson's work depicting an evening at a skating rink and showing the Prince of Wales before a table bearing the remains of a dinner, including an uncorked bottle of champagne. Over 100 people have sat for it, including many sporting enthusiasts, and nearly all the figures are in fancy dress. Because of the criticisms of the picture Mr. Robinson persuaded two of the Prince's esquires to see it and approve its exhibition.

The Academy opens on May 5, and this marks the opening of the London season.

RAIL OUTLET FOR PEACE AREA WILL BE BUILT, DECLARES PREMIER KING

and E. W. Beatty, presidents of the two great railways. The Minister of Railways (Mr. T. A. Crerar) had announced to them, as had the former Minister of Railways (Hon. C. A. Dunning). All had pointed out the importance of the outlet, and the Minister of Finance (Hon. Charles Stewart), Minister of the Interior, Hon. H. H.
Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver
Centre, and Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, it was after Mr.
Bennett's speech that Premier King spoke and he adjourned the debate at 11 p.m.

AMENDMENT MOVED

The debate started when, with a government supply motion moved, D.
McKenney, U.P.A., Peace River, Alberta, moved an amendment asking that immediate steps be taken to implement the pledge of the Prime Minister given at Edmonton in November, 1924, with regard to the Peace River outlet.

During his speech Premier King accepted the amendment.

Mr. Kennedy declared his belief Canada required a rapid and sound development of the Peace River country. He urged construction of a railway outlet to the Pacific as soon as humanly possible. This phrase, Mr.
Kennedy said, had been used by the Prime Minister in Edmonton in 1924 in pledging the Government to construct the outlet. Mr. Kennedy said he trusted, however, that the government would interpret the phrase "as soon as humanly possible" in the manner that he had since the pledge was made.
He said the government had been "delaying" in building the railway, and he voiced criticism.

AMENDMENT ACCEPTED

Premier King said Mr. Bennett, the leader of the opposition, had left the impression with the House that political capital would be made out of the amendment now before the House. Mr.
Bennett had said he would not permit the answer for Peace River to withdraw his amendment and that Mr.
Kennedy had promptly stated he would not.

Mr. Kennedy—I have not heard anything yet to justify my withdrawing it.

Premier King—The honorable member will not need to withdraw, because we are going to accept it. Does he think members on the side will vote not to implement a pledge of the government?

ROUTE EXPLORATIONS

The Prime Minister said the promise had been made in all good faith, and that since that time everything had been done to facilitate the finding of a practicable outlet from the Peace River country, and that the efforts would not be relaxed, so far as anything within the power of the government was concerned. If the opposition chose to make political capital out of the recent incident in the House it must take the responsibility for so doing.

In view of the Government's understanding to the railway was built the amendment seemed to be framed with a view to embarrassing the government, Premier King went on.

AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

The Premier then referred to his speeches on the question at Edmonton and Vancouver. Opposition members had said he used the words, "I pledge myself," at Edmonton, "I do not think I ever said I pledged myself to anything," he remarked. What he had said, the Premier went on, was that the government wished to have the railway constructed and would have it constructed as soon as "humanly possible." He had used the word humanly, because he remembered the difficulty
he had encountered on previous occasions in getting the Canadian National Railway branch lines programme through Parliament.

OPINION OF EXPERTS

Fortunately, he continued, the government now had a majority and could with some certainty expect to get its legislation through the House. But before vote any money for a railway from the Peace River district to the Pacific, Parliament, both the House of Commons and the Senate, would want to know what the two railway companies thought about the scheme.
The government would be open to

Getting Ready for Shriners

Between 30,000 and 40,000 members of the Ancient Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine will meet in Toronto next June under the leadership of Esten A. Fletcher (inset), incoming Imperial Potentate of the Order. Hotels of the city, including the Royal York with its 1154 rooms will be insufficient to meet the demand, and the Canadian Pacific Railway is building a city of sleeping cars to accommodate some 8,000 of the Shriners. "Fest City," as it will be called, will cover 21 acres of land and construction data given out show the tremendous scope of the labors. There will be required 115,000 feet board measure in 30 sets of switch ties weighing 210 tons; 12,500 track ties weighing 800 tons; 20 switches weighing 88 tons; 11 1/4 miles of 35-lb. rail weighing 760 tons; 35,000 tie plates weighing 150 tons; 60 tons of rail fastenings; 80 tons of track spikes; 6 tons of track bolts; 18,000 cubic yards of ballasting for tracks; and 9,000 cubic yards of material for 3 1/4 miles of platforms with a breadth of 14 feet. The city will be fitted with modern conveniences and a building 320 by 20 feet wide will accommodate 100 cold and hot showers. Lighting will require 75,000 watts, enough to supply 14 miles of city residential street-lighting power. This electrical work will call for 35 miles of wire strung on 200 poles. Photo shows site of Fest City.

preed upon the railways the importance of the early construction of a Pacific outlet.

P.O.E. SURVEY

A survey had been undertaken of the country to determine the best possible route for the proposed railway, Mr.
Dunning declared. Another survey was being made of the resources along the Pacific Coast Eastern Railway, but this had nothing to do with the Peace River outlet. It was an entirely separate undertaking thought it might possible have a bearing on the Peace River project.

Mr. Stevens differed with the Minister. He contended the survey of the Pacific Coast Eastern was with a view to extending that railway into the Peace River country.

INFLUENCE OF TRAFFIC

While he could not express entire satisfaction with the progress of the investigation so far, Mr. Dunning said that in fairness to the railways it was only to be expected their ardor for extensions would be dampened by business conditions last fall.

The railways might decide not to go ahead with the road, the minister continued. It would then be necessary for Parliament to vote money directly for the building of the railway. He hoped, however, that this would not come about, but that the two railways would go ahead with the scheme and Parliament would be asked to guarantee the bonds for the Canadian National Railway's half of the undertaking. A third possibility was that the railways might not be able to agree and the Canadian National might undertake to build the road alone.

"When do you expect an answer from the railways?" asked E. J. Garland, U.P.A., Bow River.

"I think we should have an answer very soon," replied Mr. Dunning. "I believe the railways have had sufficient time for their investigation."

MUST BE BUILT

L. J. Ladner, Conservative, South
Vancouver, asked what the policy of the government would be if the railways failed to carry out the project.
"The policy of the government must be, the policy of any government must be, to see the railway is built," replied
Mr. Dunning.

THROUGH PEACE PASS

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, traced the history of the Peace River development. He had always believed the outlet should be through the Peace River Pass, going either to Prince Rupert or connecting at Prince
George with the railway to Vancouver.
He would continue to urge that the outlet be constructed. Sir Henry Thompson had undertaken the line should be built when the district was producing 10,000 bushels of grain yearly, and he believed he should fulfill that promise. The homesteading in the Peace River district was progressing very satisfactorily.

BENNETT SPEAKS

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, said the Prime Minister, on the eve of an election, had made promises in Edmonton concerning construction of a transportation outlet from the Peace River District, and the question before the House was whether such promises could be made and afterward disregarded. "The honor of the government, led by its Prime Minister, is at stake," said Mr. Bennett. "Three or four years after the promises were made we find the promises unkept, disregarded, and the outlet undiscovered."

The people of Alberta were not going to be misled, Mr. Bennett said. They would remember what the Prime Minister had promised six years ago, speaking in Edmonton.

Premier King moved adjournment of the debate at 11 o'clock.

Historic Whitehall Houses May Have To Be Demolished

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London, May 6.—The Government is anxious to bring to Whitehall some of the civil servants now housed in expensive offices in various parts of London. As there seems to be little sent quartered in the houses referred to.

Such a scheme would be received with mixed feelings by lovers of old London and would certainly be opposed. Whitehall derives its name from the ancient palace of Whitehall, and has many historical associations.

The original palace was built for Hubert de Burgh, Earl of Kent, from whom it passed to Walter Grey, Archbishop of York. Cardinal Wolsey, a later occupant, surrendered it to King Henry VIII in 1530, and that monarch had it enlarged, and added the gardens and orchards of Scotland Yard.

The oldest of the houses at present standing in Whitehall Gardens is No.
7, at present occupied by the Minister of Transport. Originally known as Pembroke House, it is still a mine of art treasures, and contains a number of original carved ceilings, fireplaces,
oak doors and other valuable treasures.
Another interesting fact is that an old boat house is still standing at the back of the building, indicating that before the embankment was built the Thames ran alongside the gardens. But the old houses may still survive, for the cost of carrying out the new building would exceed any economies to be gained by the giving-up of privately-owned buildings, and at the moment
we have not money to spare.

LONDON EXPECTS GAYEST SEASON SINCE THE WAR

Period of Social Activity Will Get Under Way Next Week

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
London, May 6.—The West End clubs and the great houses of Mayfair are busy getting ready for the two and one-half months' period termed the London
season.

The return of the Prince of Wales,
the opening of Covent Garden opera, the revealing of the new pictures at the Royal Academy, ring up the curtain on a gay London season—the term used for the period when "everybody who is anybody is supposed to be in town."

Soon after the opening of the Royal Academy on May 5 the courts at Buckingham Palace will begin. Four courts have been fixed by the King and Queen, for May 14 and 15 and May 27 and 28.

What the traffic will be like in the West End of London in May and June it is difficult to imagine, in view of the oft-choke state of the Strand, Piccadilly and Oxford Street on afternoons even now.

M.P.'S APPROVE NEW FISHERIES CONTROL PLANS

Bills Creating Separate Department Passed; Salary of Minister Voted

Ottawa, May 6.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons last night to a bill providing salaries of $10,000 each for the new Minister of Fisheries and the Minister of Marine. The measure completes the legislative enactments for the separation of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, and the appointment of a new Minister of Fisheries.

DREDGING DISCUSSED
Earlier yesterday the establishment of a separate department of fisheries was authorized when the House gave third reading to two interlocking bills. There was no opposition to the principle of either bill, although Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, said he wished to oppose the centralization of the control of all dredging under the Department of Marine.

Premier King said the whole purpose in making the Department of Marine responsible was to consolidate its control.
Mr. Bennett thought the department was not equipped to handle the work, whereas either the Department of Public Works or the Department of Railways and Canals was.

The Department of Marine, the Premier said, was given third reading without division.

The Prime Minister assured the House the separation of the department would not conflict with the agreements with British Columbia and Quebec over the jurisdiction of fishery control.

The bills were given third reading without division.

A cost rate has already been arranged on shipments of Alberta coal to Ontario. The Government has received an application from the western bituminous coal operators for the extension of this arrangement to the other two prairie provinces. This request is receiving the attention of the Government together with other similar requests and the general question of fuel transportation.

WAR VETERANS' ALLOWANCE BILL BEFORE SENATE

Ottawa, May 6.—War Veterans' Allowance Bill was given third reading in the House of Commons yesterday.

When the bill came up, Premier King said he wished to correct an impression that the work of the special committee on pensions and returned soldiers' problems was finished. He pointed out the committee still had under consideration the question of pensions and had before it proposals involving a complete change in the pension system. The committee had given its unanimous approval to the present bill and the government was anxious to facilitate the passage of the measure for the benefit of returned men.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, said he would be glad to see the House pass the bill unanimously. From time to time for the last few months he had noticed the introduction of political questions affecting returned soldiers and was anxious to avoid anything of that sort.

AUGUST ELECTION IS NEW GUESS OF MONTREAL PAPER

Montreal, May 6.—The Montreal Gazette, Conservative, today published a dispatch from its parliamentary correspondent in Ottawa forecasting a general election in August of this year. The dispatch read in part as follows:

"Indications that the present Government is not going to await the Imperial Economic Conference for an appeal to the people are rapidly multiplying. It appears from quite recent developments, that Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the opposition, has not hesitated to issue his challenge to Premier King last Thursday as the latter seems to have already made up his mind to have an election this summer."

"An important indication of this intention is the manner in which the Government has assembled on and had disposed of from the order paper a large amount of legislation, some of it of large consequence."

"Last Friday the Prime Minister introduced his legislation to establish a separate Ministry of Fisheries and he took pains to tell the House this was asked for by the Maritime Provinces. It was on his urgent request that last week the agreements providing for the transfer to the four western provinces of their natural resources were given third reading."

"There is little probability there will be any sudden or spectacular dissolution of the present Parliament, it is unlikely that the Liberals will go into the country until the work of this session is completed, and it does not seem possible that under normal conditions the session can terminate before July 1."

LOSS IN FIRE IS PUT AT $400,000

Buffalo, N.Y., May 6.—A fire, believed to have started from a short circuit in the wiring in the top of the monastery at St. Bonaventure College, west of Olean, yesterday destroyed the monastery, the seminary and St. Bonaventure church, with a loss estimated at $400,000. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The three buildings were of brick, about eighty years old.

The blaze started in the room of the brothers and was not discovered until the flames were issuing through the roof.

Galipeault Named Judge in Quebec

Ottawa, May 6.—Appointment of Hon. Antonin Galipeault, Minister of Public Works and Labor in the Quebec Government, to be a puisne judge of the Quebec Court of King's Bench, was announced by the Minister of Justice yesterday.

The appointment fills the vacancy caused by the elevation of Mr. Justice L. A. Cannon to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Cumberland

Cumberland, May 6.—The funeral of Cecil Howard, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maxwell Jr., was held on Friday from the residence, Dunsmuir Avenue, Rev. J. B. Hewitt officiating and interment made in Cumberland cemetery.

Mrs. David Morgan, president of Review No. 17, W.B.A., and Mrs. Susan Covert will represent the local organization at the W.B.A. rally to be held in Vancouver on May 7. The review is also making elaborate preparations for their annual banquet in celebration of Mother's Day, when Mrs. O'Brien, district field director of Vancouver, will be the guest of honor and the speaker of the evening.

Eddie Trehern and party spent last week-end fishing at Forbes Landing, Lower Campbell Lake, and brought down a nice catch of seventy-five trout. A. R. Stacey has severed his connection with the Canadian Collieries (D) Limited.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Cumberland General Hospital is being congratulated on the very successful dance held on Friday evening. The hospital dance immediately following Easter, has become a looked-for annual affair and is always a well-attended and enjoyable function. The Ho Ho Hall looked very colorful with the appropriate decorations of red and white, the refreshments served by the committee were all that could be desired, and the attendance was quite within the hopes of the ladies. Music was supplied by the Sunnyside orchestra, Jimmy Walker conducting, and J. H. Cameron acted as master of ceremonies.

BOND ISSUES BY C.N.R. ARE VOTED BY M.P.'S

Ottawa, May 6.—Two resolutions to provide for meeting obligations in connection with the Canadian National Railway system were approved by the House of Commons yesterday.

Subsequently, bills based on them were given first and second reading and sent to the special committee which deals with Canadian National Railway estimates and other matters bearing on the Government system.

One resolution formed the basis of a bill providing for the refunding of obligations of the Canadian Northern Railway Company and the Manitoba and Manitoba Railway Company. It gave authority for the issuance of subordinated securities, guaranteed by the Dominion to the value of $30,042,088, the aggregate face value of the original securities. This amount originally was used for the construction of branch lines, mostly in Manitoba. When the Canadian Northern was absorbed into the Canadian National system the latter company had to provide for the payment of the bonds.

In answer to Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre, the Minister of Railways said no striking fund had been set up for the refunding of the bonds. They would fall due in June, November and October of this year.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILWAY

The second resolution authorized the issuance of new securities by the Canadian National Railway Company, bearing the guarantee of the Dominion Government, to a total amount of $8,600,000, to meet certain obligations in connection with temporary financing of the Central Vermont Railway. Since years ago the Central Vermont Railway went into the hands of a receiver, leaving outstanding securities guaranteed by the Grand Trunk Railway to the amount of $8,600,000. It was to take care of this special financing the present loan was asked, it was explained. The Central Vermont system now is owned by the Canadian National Railway system.

PENSIONS FOR JUDGES GIVEN BY NEW BILL

Ottawa, May 6.—A bill introduced by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, respecting pensions for judges, was given first reading by the Commons yesterday.

An act providing for the retirement of judges at seventy-five came into effect March 31, 1927. The new bill provides that judges holding office prior to that date who reach the age limit, shall be paid annuities equal to their salaries at the time.

This will apply to judges of the Supreme Court of Canada and the Exchequer Court of Canada. An annuity equal to two-thirds of his salary at the time of retirement will be paid to such a judge appointed after March 31, 1927. The wisdom of extending judges into complete retirement at the age of seventy-five was questioned by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, and C. H. Cahane, Conservative, St. Lawrence, St. George. Some judges, Mr. Cahane said, were still capable of service after having reached the retirement age. It was suggested provision should be made to permit them to serve on commissions, and in cases where other judges were absent from their regular duties.

Mr. Lapointe said he appreciated the point taken, but the law provided for retirement could not be changed without action by Parliament.

Court Is Given Power to Rule On Money Distribution

Ottawa, May 6.—Third reading of a bill to amend the Exchequer Court Act was given in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. The bill empowers this court to adjudicate on the distribution of sums of money which come into the possession of the government for which there are conflicting claims.

A bill respecting criminal procedure in Alberta also received third reading. It confirms an order-in-council passed under the Alberta Act, declaring certain provisions of the Northwest Territories Act no longer applicable to the province of Alberta.

Three Workers On Bridge Are Killed

Nelson, B.C., May 6.—William Campbell, Nelson bridge foreman for the Department of Public Works, Joseph Harris of Roseland, bridge worker, and another man, were instantly killed yesterday four miles north of Roseland while engaged in dismantling a bridge at Stoney Creek.

The unfortunate men were thrown 100 feet from the bridge to the rocks below. Two others were seriously injured and were removed to the hospital in Roseland. They are Alex. Armstrong, Trail, and Mr. Sturgeon of Nelson.

The accident was due to the collapse of a bench on which the men were working.

Word Comes From Plane in Siberia

Motorship Nanuk, North Cape, Siberia, May 6.—First reports reached here yesterday that the Russian aviator Gladyshev and his mechanic and two passengers from the Soviet steamship Stravopol, known to have been from this United States vessel, had reached Whalen, on St. Lawrence Bay, safely.

Four team drivers arriving here brought word that the plane carrying the passengers, who were last members of the Moscow scientific expedition to leave the ship which was locked by the ice all winter, was detained by unfavorable weather from continuing the flight down the coast to Vladivostok.

OUR MUSICAL FESTIVAL

THE GROWTH OF THE MUSICAL FESTIVAL in Victoria since its inception is an arresting indication of the extent and variety of the interest in music and its kindred arts which prevails in this district. The first festival, in 1927, was regarded as a marked success, not only because there were 400 entries, but also on account of the high standard of the competitions. The 1928 and 1929 festivals showed gratifying increases in the entry lists, and a maintenance of the standard established by the first one. The festival which opens to-day surpasses those of other years in the number of competitors, and it is likely to excel them in other respects.

Whether this progressive growth in the number of entries and the scope and diversity of the contests will continue or not, it is inevitable that the standard of festivals will improve from year to year. This is insured by the fact that the festival is not merely a competitive affair. It also is an educative process, with the judges, who invariably are experts of wide reputation, as the instructors. In giving their decisions, these tribunals show the faults which should be corrected and the merits which should be cultivated. Hence, each festival should lay the foundation for the higher standard of the one which follows it, and all of them are links in a chain of musical education, the value of which fortunately is realized in this city.

The Victoria Musical Festival Association has become one of the outstanding assets of this community. Apart from its encouragement to the promotion of music and the development of musical talent, it is giving Victoria an advertisement of the highest value among cities of the coast through the excellence of its annual competitions. A city in which the cultivation of the higher arts plays an important part in the ordinary life of its people need not worry about its future. There is a fine distinction in being known as a city whose people love music and the arts as well as the beauties of nature.

THE LONDON TIMES APPROVES

THE LONDON TIMES, in common with the great bulk of the British press, welcomes Mr. Dunning's budget in the most enthusiastic manner. The great London daily calls it a striking manifestation of "Canada's desire for the closest of trade relations with Great Britain." We then read further:

"The Canadian government, with the plain approval of the great bulk of opinion in Canada, is preparing the way for approaching the Imperial Conference and the Imperial Economic Conference with a striking manifestation of its desire for the closest of trade relations with Great Britain. The advantages offered by Canada to British industry are offered without any bargaining for corresponding concessions.

"The new tariff is proof the Canadian government is determined to do what it can to make Canadian partnership in the empire economically effective, and this policy will find a vigorous exponent in the new High Commissioner, Hon. Vincent Massey. The Imperial Conference this year may be no less memorable than the conference of 1926 (when Mr. Massey was attached to the Canadian delegation) for the work done to promote co-operation, economic and political, between the self-governing constituents of the empire.

"In fostering this co-operation, which is a necessary corollary of autonomy, Canada has a great part to play, and from Mr. Dunning's references to the conference in his budget speech, and from the generous extension of the British preference for which his budget provides, it is clear she intends to seize the opportunity."

Of especial interest to The Times is the warning Mr. Dunning has given to British manufacturers to improve their sales and service organizations in Canada. This is a point which could be usefully emphasized by Old Country newspapers. In the words of Mr. Evelyn Wrench, editor of The London Spectator, "foreign business people would be prepared to place larger orders with Great Britain if Great Britain would only try to supply them with exactly what they want." This advice is more important still now that Canada is making it easier for the British producer to increase his trade in the Canadian market.

On this aspect of the matter also, The Financial News, which enjoys the largest circulation of any financial newspaper in the world, says "Canada proposes to make it easier for those who purchase freely from her to send their goods in payment. It is thus to be noted that it is our free market which has won for us a larger measure of freedom in the Canadian market."

TARIFF MAKERS' TROUBLES

WASHINGTON'S TARIFF MAKERS again have placed soft lumber and shingles on the free list. The House of Representatives decided the issue as far as that chamber was concerned with a vote of 230 to 178, and it is expected that Senate will confirm it in view of this substantial majority, its own decision to tax these commodities a short time ago being won by only a slender margin.

British Columbia's lumbermen and shingle manufacturers have been on tenterhooks for months in connection with this phase of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill. First of all lumber and shingles were to be included in the new tax schedules, then they were placed back on the free list. As a result of vote bargaining, they again went into the schedule; now they are back again where they were before the bill was introduced. This is of vital importance to British Columbia, since it will preserve a market for these commodities worth between $25,000,000 and $40,000,000.

000,000. It will not do, perhaps, to crow too loudly, but there is every prospect that they are on the free list to stay.

Supporters of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill apparently are far from happy about it. They are committed to its principle, but they are getting reminders from many impartial sources that the policy they are following is a short-sighted one. The latest development is a memorial from famous economists, not in public life, to President Hoover, urging him to veto the tariff measure. The essence of the objection contained in the memorial is that, if the bill should pass, retail prices would be increased, the farmer hurt, employment lessened, American investments abroad imperilled, and foreign relations embittered.

As already noted, this appeal to the President is not the work of politicians; its signers include economists from forty-six out of the forty-eight states and 179 colleges. Among them are such well-known men as Irving Fisher of Yale, Frank W. Taussig of Harvard, Frank A. Fetter of Princeton, and Wesley C. Mitchell of Columbia. Those signing for Leland Stanford University—President Hoover's Alma Mater—were Dean W. E. Hatch, Eliot Jones, Holbrook Working, Helen Cherrington Farnsworth, Ada Fay Wyman, L. Elden Smith, and Murray S. Wildman. Mr. Hoover may not permit himself to be swayed by the opinions of such experts as those whose names we have given, but their views on such a vital national question, especially at the present juncture, will command respect.

The New York Times, incidentally, comments on the subject with this country in mind. It warns Congress that it is doing what it can "to drive a wedge between the United States and Canada." It argues further that "not only as our nearest neighbor and best customer, but as the intermediary between ourselves and other portions of the British Empire, friendship with Canada, based upon fair play and sympathetic understanding, is vital to all concerned."

How far Congress finally will go in the matter remains to be seen. Congressmen seem to be changing their minds almost every day. Meanwhile the news about soft lumber and shingles will cheer British Columbia producers.

CANADA TO THE FORE

NOT SINCE A LABOR CANDIDATE used the cattle embargo as an election platform in Great Britain nearly ten years ago has Canada been advertised in a political campaign as much as it has been in the constituency of West Fulham, where polling in a by-election is taking place to-day.

The Conservative candidate, Sir Cyril Cobb, apparently is delighted with Mr. Dunning's budget, for he is using it in his speeches and has wired to the Canadian Minister of Finance as follows:

"The Canadian budget is the greatest impetus to Imperial relations since the days of the war. Those of us who have struggled so hard on this side for a new and broader sense of the Imperial relationship welcome your lead with full hearts."

Most of Sir Cyril Cobb's campaign, of course, has been conducted with the blessing of Lord Beaverbrook, empire free trade being held out to the voters as one way to reduce unemployment. As West Fulham only broke away from its traditional Conservative leanings at the last general election, it would appear that Sir Cyril has an excellent chance of recapturing the seat.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

UNEMPLOYMENT

The Quebec Soleil

It is not by taking part in conferences and debates that we shall solve the problem of unemployment, but by optimism and the use of all our energies in concert. Capital itself, if it wishes to prosper and to escape catastrophic turns of bad fortune, must exert itself to the utmost to assure ordinary comfort and the security necessary for living to the working man. Herein is the key, the only key to the solution. Yet even when financial and industrial authorities have done all they can, there will still be people in want and misery on the earth. No institution that mortal man can create will remedy this completely.

THE FOREIGN TRADE OF THE U.S.A.

The Quebec Soleil

So long as the nations of Europe, shattered, ruined and disorganized by the war, needed American products, the high tariff was no great handicap to the foreign trade of the United States. But in eleven years of effort, the great nations of Europe have been able to pick up bit by bit the normal course of their industry, and many a market on which Uncle Sam used to count is gradually escaping from his clutches and recovering its autonomy. They are all the more ready to make their exports, as they long to be freed of a commercial imperialism compounded of egoism and the exploitation of the human species. Thus, because they wished to get everything for nothing, the Americans have run the risk of finding themselves utterly deserted.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON'S HANDICAP

The Brockville Record and Times

Arthur Brisbane, who is a product of the Hearst Anglophobe press, takes many cracks at Old England, now that he is syndicating his own editorials, and this week, referring to the launching of Sir Thomas Lipton's yacht which is challenging for the America Cup, he comments:

"Britons building sailing boats for centuries, cannot compete with modern American boat builders. Youthful inventive genius is better than old experience."

Mr. Brisbane overlooks several things. In the first place, the America Cup was won by an American yacht in British waters eighty years ago. In those days yachts did not have the fine lines that they have now. They were of a heavier and sturdier build, and it was no disadvantage eighty years ago for the Americans to build a challenger capable of crossing the ocean.

To-day, a British challenger has to build a yacht for racing which has also to be capable of safely making the voyage across the wide, and sometimes even in summer, stormy Atlantic. That is Sir Thomas Lipton's handicap. If he should win, it will become an American handicap, and it may be another eighty years before the cup goes back to the United States.

For Mr. Brisbane to tell Britons that they don't know how to build fast ships is like telling one's grandmother how to suck eggs.

If "youthful inventive genius is better than old experience," why is it that British liners held the Atlantic record for decades past against the rest of the shipping world, including the United States? They have just lost it to Germany, but there is no doubt the next Cunard or White Star liner will win it back.

A THOUGHT

The price of wisdom is above rubies.—Job xxviii 18. As for me, all I know is that I know nothing.—Socrates.

Loose Ends

In Europe more money brings more children—while here it brings less—Rupert Brooke is to have a memorial at Granchester—and another splendid invention is achieved.

By H.B.W.

IN MANY French and Belgian industries, after the war, workers with children were paid extra wages so that they could maintain them. This system has been continued and expanded until to-day it covers a large part of the French and Belgian populations. It was inaugurated to prevent privation during the terrible post-war years of reconstruction, but its results have been much wider than its founders expected. The International Labor Office has found that not only has it helped children already alive, but has resulted in bringing many new ones into the world. The birthrate, experts state, has increased in direct ratio to the assistance given to parents. In other words, the more money they receive, the more children the thrifty French and Belgian parents have.

NOTHING shows more clearly the gulf between us in America and the people of Europe. Here our birthrate has declined in contrast to that of our neighbors. The richer we become, the less babies we have, until in the United States experts believe the population will reach a maximum point about thirty years from now and then decline. The United States, with the greatest wealth probably has the smallest families in the world, and we, except for Quebec, are the least fertile. Outside observers may attribute this condition to our parsimony, our unwillingness to spend our riches on our children. This, however, is the very contrary of the truth. The real fact is that we are spending so much more on our children all the time that, relatively rich as we are, we cannot afford to have as many as the poor Europeans, who bring their offspring up in a simpler school. History alone will show which are the happier—one or two children allowed everything, or a large family reared on old-fashioned lines. My own theory is that our present adult generation is the unhappiest in history, and its children probably will be unhappier still.

IN THE village of Granchester they are going to erect a monument shortly to Rupert Brooke, the English poet who died in the Dardanelles expedition, not the least loss in that disaster. Granchester, of course, is the fitting place for such a memorial for it was there that Brooke spent his happiest days. It was to Granchester he wrote that "men with splendid hearts and holy quietude. All common Great clouds along Pacific skies. And men and women with straight eyes, Little children lovelier than a dream, A bosky wood, a slumberous stream, And little kindly winds that creep Round twilight corners, half asleep."

TO THOSE who are interested in such things this memorial to Rupert Brooke has more than ordinary significance. It is really a memorial to the only great poetry which the Great War seems to have produced in our language. How strange it is that the greatest upheaval in ideas that our race has known should produce only five little sonnets which are fit to rank with the genuine poetry of our literature; and all from the pen of a youth who was to die in service before the war was nine months old. It seemed as if the voice of Youth was raised exultantly as it went into battle and then forever silenced. Brooke's five sonnets were a small measure of poetry, but perhaps, after all, they were enough for our grandchildren should be able to find in them all they need for the spirit of the war. How strange it is that the greatest war poetry has yet to be written just as the French Revolution had to wait for Carlyle, the fall of Rome for Gibbon. There may be greater poetry than Brooke's any poet who had not like Brooke, poured out the red, sweet wine of youth, "given up" the years of work and joy and that unhoped serene that men call age, will hardly be able to equal such lines as these:

"If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is forever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways
To roam, untroubled free by fate,
A body of England's breathing, breathing
English air
Washed by the rivers, blest by the sun's of home."

ANOTHER CONTRIBUTION to the peace of the world is just reported from the United States. The formation of the "deafest machine-gun" in existence capable of firing 5-calibre bullets for nine miles at the rate of 800 shots a minute. More interesting than this deadly instrument itself, however, is the inventor of it. He, we are told, is a "traveling salesman who, disappointed in his inability to serve in the World War, has since devoted his spare time to gun-making." Perhaps, if he had not been so disappointed, he might have found other work and the world would have lost this valuable device. But in the next war, which such experts are always confidently predicting, perhaps, his luck may be better. Perhaps he will be stationed somewhere within nine miles of the front line where there will be a good chance of him experiencing some of his own bullets at the rate of 800 per minute. Then he will realize

CHEMICAL GAIN

To the Editor:—An item in Thursday's Times quotes the plumbers' union as having gained the five-day week, but with no advance in wages. Now, if our union plumbers are willing to work for $18 or $20 less per month than last year—for that is what it means—no one is going to worry. Certainly not our non-union plumbers, who will get the five-day week on their terms, but we need the money. A plumber may be able to struggle along on $25 per week, but what about the laborer? Does the laborer on the same job as the plumber have to quit Friday, and struggle along on $20 per week? We get the five-day plumber will not snoot around on Saturday seeking to rob the non-union plumber of the job, like the union carpenters did?

DOMINION GOVERNORS

To the Editor:—In an editorial some time ago you mentioned the question of the next Governor-General was being discussed, and Sir Robert Borden had been mentioned as a suitable candidate for the high office. I agree that Sir Robert Borden has all the qualifications for the office, but am of the opinion that, for various reasons, public opinion is not yet ready for a Canadian Governor-General.

A rather heated discussion on the same subject is now taking place in Australia, where the opinion is very much divided as to the wisdom of appointing an Australian to the position. Since Confederation there has been a succession of changes in our status within the empire, and every change has broadened our field of political action and increased our responsibilities to ourselves and the empire, and the Imperial Conference of 1926 declared that the Motherland and all the parliamentary-governed Dominions "are autonomous communities within the empire, equal in status and in no way subordinate one to the other in any

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, MAY 6, 1905

The Victoria Daily Times, May 6, 1905. The draft agreement between the corporation and the property holders owning lots which the proposed Spring Ridge sewer will pass has been prepared by the city solicitor and will be signed in a day or so.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Light to moderate winds, unsettled and cool, with showers.

A large variety of topics was on the bill of fare for yesterday's business of the Presbyterian Synod. One note is dominant, systematic, Home mission work, Sabbath schools, foreign missions and young people's societies were the principal subjects handled. Several very pleasant interludes occurred to brighten the labors of the brethren.

A street car was placed on the new Gorge road line yesterday afternoon, and a service provided as far as Lampson Street. The car gives a half-hour service, and connects with the Equinax cars at the corner of Craigflower Road.

A fully-attended meeting of the Victoria Day celebration executive was held last evening with N. Shakespeare in the chair. Reports were received from the parade and regatta committees and passed after some discussion.

There are five of the sealing fleet which will not return to Victoria for a number of months yet. These vessels are the Diana, Carlotta, G. Cox, Vera, City of San Diego and Casco. They have called at Clatsop, secured winter provisions they required for an extended cruise, and have sailed away for the far eastern waters. They each carried a white crew. They hunted with others of the fleet along the coast and secured an average catch.

aspect of their domestic or external affairs, though united by a common allegiance to the Crown and freely associated as members of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

While there would probably be a wide difference of opinion as to the wisdom of a Canadian becoming Governor-General of Canada, there can be no difference of opinion as to the ability of statesmen in the parliamentary government. Dominions any political office within the empire. A Canadian has been the president of the Assembly of the League of Nations, and Canada has occupied a seat in the Council of the League at Geneva.

There are over twenty Canadians in the British House of Commons and several in the House of Lords, and a Canadian has been Premier of Great Britain.

Since Confederation some very eminent men have filled the office of Governor-General of Canada. It is no disparagement to these able men to say that Sir Robert Borden of Canada, ex-Premier of the United Kingdom, and Hon. R. G. Coates of New Zealand are as well versed in constitutional practices and parliamentary procedure as the ablest of them, and would as ably fill the high office.

At present the principal bonds of empire are the right of judicial appeal to the Privy Council and the sentiment of loyalty to the King, and these both centre in London. Escaping the very limited trade carried on between the various Dominions, and the particular bond existing between these Dominions.

With the interchange of governors between the Dominions, the association of Dominions, a more intimate knowledge and a greater degree of social intercourse would be cultivated. There would be many personal friendships formed between the leaders of public opinion in the several Dominions, and thereby an impetus would be given to imperial trade. This closer and more intimate knowledge and sympathy which would encircle and bind together the empire at the outer rim and strengthen the whole structure.

Had a Canadian ever been Governor of Australia, British Columbia and not Washington and Ottawa would be able to furnish the most of the lumber imported by that growing Commonwealth.

Head of Canadian Chamber of Commerce Says Great Contest With U.S. in Sight

J. H. Woods Expresses Confidence Canada Will Be Found Victor at the End

Canadian Press

Halifax, N.S., May 6.—Lieut.-Col. J. H. Woods, editor of The Halifax Herald, and president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, told members of the Halifax Board of Trade at a complimentary dinner given in his honor yesterday evening, that Canada was on the eve of a tariff war with the United States, notwithstanding anything the Minister of Finance might say as to the peaceable intentions of the Dominion. It was inevitable such a struggle should ensue, declared Col. Woods, and he added his confident belief was that Canada would emerge victorious.

SPORTSMANSHIP DISPLAYED

The speaker had just returned from Washington, where he had addressed the United States Chamber of Commerce. He paid a tribute to the spirit of the American Chamber as exemplified in the honors it had lavished on the Canadian delegation, and to the sportsmanship with which his address had been received, though they were well aware of the impending economic contest.

He had been told repeatedly in Washington that if the business and industrial leaders in the republic were in a position to control the activities of the politicians, Canada would be dealt with in tariff matters. But the administrative system in the United States did not lend itself so readily to an interpretation of the wishes of the people as did that of Canada. This was one of the factors contributing to his faith that Canadians would be able to meet every challenge.

MARTINIS GAINING

Turning to domestic affairs, Col. Woods said he had been much struck with the manner in which the ports of Halifax and St. John, and indeed the entire Maritime Provinces, were reacting to the revivifying influence of the work of the Duncan commission, in the initiation of which the Canadian Chamber of Commerce had played no small part. The Great War had demonstrated a unity within the Empire. But the reception accorded the Duncan report throughout Canada had manifested a unity within the Dominion.

Britain to Drain Waste Land to Aid Production

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London, May 6.—The Government has drafted and issued a Land Drainage Bill to amend and consolidate the enactments relating to the subject of land drainage.

Some such measure has long been wanted. A very large area in England and Wales—stated by the Ministry of Agriculture to be 1,735,000 acres—cannot be cultivated, or falls below a reasonable level of fertility, because it is inadequately drained. More than two-thirds of the area is subject to actual flooding.

It is an extraordinary state of affairs when it is considered that a good part of this land is actually being farmed and is injured in varying degrees by the process of flooding. It is not always economical to drain such land into the sea.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

When there are no small children in a family, dishes made with nuts offer variety for menu meals. Nut croquettes, loaves and patties are rich in protein and make excellent meat substitutes.

Peanuts, almonds and butter-nuts are richer in protein than any other variety of nuts commonly used. The pine nut, more generally used in the west and southwest than in the eastern states, is richest of all nuts in protein. These nuts contain more protein than an equal weight of meat.

English walnuts, Brazil nuts, pecans, filberts and hickory nuts are particularly high in fat but contain a worthwhile amount of protein.

However, it is the peanut, the cheapest of all nuts, which is the best source of protein. Peanut butter of course is also rich in protein, so that concoctions containing peanut butter have their protein calories increased. Peanut butter soup, peanut butter salad dressing, peanut butter sandwiches and salads with peanut butter can be counted on to add protein to menus.

SEVERE CONCENTRATED FOOD
The water content of nuts is low. This is the reason they are such a highly concentrated food.

The reputation of indigestibility that nuts have is undoubtedly in a large measure due to the carelessness with which they are eaten. They too often are imperfectly masticated, or eaten in large quantities by themselves or are added to a rich meal already rich in calories. Nuts eaten with a meal either as a relish or mixed with the food must be considered as any highly concentrated protein and fat. They add much nutritive value to the meal and should not cause digestive troubles with an ordinarily healthy person.

Serve plenty of bulky vegetables with a nut loaf. Spinach, cabbage, lettuce, carrots or celery combine well with a nut dish and can be used raw or cooked.

Jubilee Hospital W.A.—The sewing meeting of the Jubilee Hospital W.A. will be held on Wednesday in the Nurses' Home at 2 o'clock.

PLANS NEW YORK-TO-OSTEND HOP

This American society woman is planning "a flying trip to Europe"—and she really means just that. For Grace Lyon, above, millonairess-aviatrix of Long Beach, N.Y., and San Pedro, Cal., has announced she will attempt a transatlantic flight in her own plane next summer from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, to Ostend, Belgium. She is to fly a special craft that is being built for her by Martin Jenson, well-known aviator.

CORNERSTONE OF SOLARIUM UNIT LAID NEXT WEEK

Robert Baird, Past Grand Master, to Officiate For Shriners May 14

A number of women's organizations in the city, together with many leading citizens and representatives of the Masonic craft in Canada and the United States, have received invitations to the laying of the corner stone of the new Shrine unit of the Queen Alexandra Solarium at Malahat Beach, which is to be held on Wednesday, May 14, at 3:30 o'clock. Robert Baird, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia, A.F. and A.M., will officiate at the ceremony, and the band of Gresham Shrine Temple will render selections during the afternoon.

This new unit, which is to cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, is another expression of the active interest taken by the Shriners of Canada and the United States in the welfare of crippled children. In a number of centres the Shriners have built their own hospitals for cases of this sort, and their decision to build a unit at the Queen Alexandra Solarium rather than to divert part of their funds to one of their own institutions, is ample and convincing indication of their admiration and appreciation of the excellent work which is being carried on at the institution.

L.O.R.A. Concert—Purple Star Lodge No. 104 will hold a concert and dance in the Orange Hall, Courtney Street, on Wednesday, May 7, at 8 o'clock. A good programme has been arranged and an enjoyable evening is anticipated. Members are asked to bring refreshments.

Three Thousand Attend Debut of Girls' Band

Splendid Programme Given by New Organisation of Young Victoria Musicians and Assisting Artists Last Night at Crystal Garden; Smart Uniforms and Fine Performance.

Another and unmistakable musical event that must be added to the history and progress of the city took place last evening at the Crystal Garden. The occasion marked the first appearance of the Victoria Girls' Band in concert, and the capital city can now boast that it is in the unique position of having the only band of all girl players within the Dominion. The beginning of this organization, which comprises forty playing members, was made in the early fall of last year and must be accredited to its bandmaster, Arthur Hodgkins, and its life and maintenance to its manager, R. E. (Bob) Webb, and the committee, Mrs. C. Brown, secretary; E. Williams, treasurer; Mrs. E. Williams, chaperone; and Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge, Mrs. Petherbridge, Mrs. Gekwell, Mrs. Orrick and Mr. and Mrs. Scott, all of whom have untiringly and unceasingly worked with a will, and not forgetting the players, in bringing the band to the high efficiency to which it has already attained. All these concerned can well feel proud at the ovation given the band.

Canada," by the band and audience, followed by the march, "Always Ready" (Geo. Hawkins) and George D. Barnard's overture, "Garden of Eden." The other numbers were "Indian Boy," a fox trot by Harold Bennett; march, "Great Divide" (Everett Evans); waltz, "Sweet Home" (Howell); the two selections, "Best Loved Southern Melodies" and "Best Loved Irish Melodies," both by A. L. Hayes; the hymn, "Nearer, My God, to Thee"; march, "Double" (Evans); and the test piece for juvenile bands at the present Musical Festival, the "Determination" overture by Hayes. This last found the young instrumentalists wholly on their mettle, who gave a splendid account of themselves, the 3,000 "auditors" present appearing to award them first prize, amidst the applause and prolonged applause that followed its rendition.

CLEVER LEADERSHIP

Bandmaster Hodgkins, to whom congratulations must be extended for the excellent results already shown, and his willing forces had their first taste of the forthcoming competition. His talented daughters, Marjorie and Ruby Hodgkins, who are playing cornet contributions, the former in a solo, "On the Banks of Allan Water" (Hartman), to which she was obliged to respond with an augmented number, while both young ladies gave the much enjoyed and well-played cornet duet, "We Two" (Strassberger). This, too, called for their reappearance in a further number. The accompaniments to these were played by Margaret Brockington.

SMART UNIFORMS

The young ladies present a natty and military appearance in their new smartly designed uniforms and occupied a platform raised at the north end of the pool facing their music stands, from which hung black velvet, transpiringly draped, on which in silver were the initials "V.G.B." Their uniforms are of cream hued cloth, trimmed with braid and with scarlet-faced military capes, scarlet-pointed caps with initials in red, "V.G.B." white silk stockings and red shoes. The drum major wore a dandy, and the bandmaster wore a dark blue uniform.

SINGERS ASSIST

Three well-known singers and two groups of dancers assisted in the programme. Of the singers, Dolly Rutledge sang most captivatingly and well in tune, "I Love You," and was rewarded with much applause. Thomas Kelly, tenor, and Ernest Butterworth, baritone, again met with much success in the duet from "The Student Prince," and with loud demands for their reappearance to the platform gave "In This Silent Hour," from "Pirates of the

YOUR BABY and MINE

WORM MEDICINES DANGEROUS IN HANDS OF AMATEUR

In the past when we have talked about pin worms, those found most often in small children and now, as often as their mothers suspect, we had some interesting letters. These letters told of suffering for years without success, having recurrent attacks and following out full directions for eradicating the pest. In suggesting any treatment for pin worms (the only type I am considering) one must keep in mind that instructions may have to be followed many times. "Will you please tell me what to do for a little girl of three who has pin worms?" Mrs. J. St. writer, "I have given her three bottles of worm medicine without result. What causes worms?" "Can you tell me any new ideas about bed-wetting? I have a boy of twelve and I have tried the dry meals at night, getting him up in the night and promising him rewards, but he is no better. Sometimes he goes two weeks with a dry bed and then again he wets every night." "BE SURE WORMS ARE PRESENT" Pin worms, in fact both pin worms and round worms, are caused by eating something upon which are worm eggs. The eggs of pin worms may be found on any food which is handled by a person infested with pin worms, who is not clean and does not wash his hands frequently after going to toilet. Pin worm eggs might be on vegetables dug from the ground and eaten without washing or peeling. Once the worm eggs get in the system (by whatever means) they hatch and then you know what happens—they begin to appear in swarms in the stool. When they are present they can always be seen and there need be no guess work about them. Don't imagine that the child has worms because of any out of the ordinary behavior. You don't need to guess, because you can always see them in the stool. They look like their names, tiny bits of white thread. CONSULT DOCTOR Now if the child has worms and you have found them in the stool, you must ask the doctor to give you a prescription for an enema to be used until the worms are gone. This enema is to be used after a physic of any kind and to be followed by one) will, we have reason to believe, rid the child of the worms. This department cannot advise the enema, as no medical advice is given through this column. Pin worms are not helped by worm medicines taken internally, so that is one reason your efforts were futile. Always ask a doctor for help, as worm medicines are dangerous drugs in the hands of an amateur. Please send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and let me send you the leaflet I have on bed-wetting. I shall also be glad to suggest the name of an excellent book that discusses this habit in detail. If you get a different slant on it you'll find you have a better chance of ending the bad habit.

Cheese Straws

Decide!

CHEESE STRAWS

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon Magic Baking Powder
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups grated cheese
A pinch of salt
Cold water
Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Rub in butter and cheese. Mix with very cold water. Roll out like pie crust, cut in strips about 5 inches long. Bake in a hot oven till nicely browned.

Here's a delicacy that fairly melts in your mouth.

Tender... flaky... tempting cheese straws!

Doesn't it make your mouth water just to think about them?

For lunch, as a side dish with dinner... after the bridge game, or when entertaining, they're equally delightful.

And so easy to make, there's really no reason why you shouldn't serve them often.

But when making them, remember! to get the best results for every baking, always use

U.S. Golf Team Now In Old Country For Walker Cup Matches

THE Perfect Pitching Performance Given By Elks' Mound Ace

BOWLERS here are to be satisfied at last. For several years the maple-smashers of Victoria have been confined in their operations to a few runways which a couple of keen enthusiasts operate to keep the sport alive. Now comes the announcement that a big, twenty-alley emporium is to be ready for use in September.

A strategic time has been picked for their venture by the backers of the new alleys. Bowling in Victoria at the present time is just at a turning point. The last season was the most successful on record and only the lack of facilities kept the leagues from outgrowing themselves.

Two league leagues and one fifteen loop operated last year, having a total membership of about twenty teams. This meant that only about 100 bowlers were connected with the league play.

With the opening of the new alleys, it should not be hard to have in the neighborhood of 100 teams or so next season. In addition to the men's squads, special facilities will be provided for the ladies, who in other cities are rapidly taking to the game.

Last season the girls of the B.C. Telephone Company were the only ones who interested themselves in match play, and developed into fine fifteen pinners. There will, no doubt, be a mixed fifteen league as well as a ladies' group next season.

The Brooklyn Robins and Cleveland Indians divided the major honors in the big leagues last week, but they did it in vastly different ways.

Each won five games, and lost only one to top their respective circuits. The Robins slugged their way to the head of the National League by hammering opposing pitchers for eighty-seven hits and fifty-seven runs to top the week's slugging prize. They tied with the Philadelphia Athletics for the high-run total of the two leagues and led the Boston Braves, their nearest rivals, by three in hitting. The Athletics were the American League's best sluggers with seventy-nine.

The Indians were down near the bottom in hitting, but managed to pull out three victories just the same. They made only thirty runs from sixty-six hits, the same results that put the Phillies at the bottom of the National League. But Cleveland managed to hold its opponents to twenty-three tallies, while Brooklyn's rivals scored forty-seven times.

The National League in general produced heavier hitting. Boston made eighty-four hits, Pittsburgh eighty-three and New York eighty-two, better than the American League's high mark. The Braves scored forty-six times to take second place. The St. Louis Browns, winning only one game of six, pitched up at the end of the offensive line, making but eighteen runs and forty-four hits. Cincinnati was low in the National League with twenty-nine runs.

The Chicago Cubs led the home-run hitters, driving out eight four-baggers. Three teams tied for second place in this department. Errors were rather frequent, but the records showed improvement. Detroit got through the week with but three misplays, but the Sox had a weak defense and allowed their opponents to score fifty-six runs. Five and six errors were the more common totals. The Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Nationals did the worst fielding, committing thirteen and twelve errors, respectively.

In defense, Cleveland led all the rest, but the St. Louis Cards held their opponents to thirty-one runs, heading the National League in this respect. The Chicago White Sox did even better, limiting their opponents to twenty-six runs.

Two weeks from last Saturday Canadian racing season will open at Woodbine Park in Toronto. The feature of the opening day's programme will be the running of the King's Plate, at one mile and a furlong, for a purse of $15,000 and 50 purses donated by His Majesty the King. There are sixty-two entries for the plate, but scarcely a third of that number will answer the call of the bugle on May 17.

Free thinker, ace of the Seagram Stable of Waterloo, has been training soundly and on his juvenile record is certain to be established as a favorite to capture the grand and accompanying honors. He suffered but one defeat last year, finishing second to the speedy Kinsway, ineligible to compete in the plate.

The Thornecliffe Stable, owned by the Davies brothers, Leaside, Ontario, won the plate last year with Shore Tint, plan to send Whale Oil, swift-running son of Oilman, Air Port, and Varsity to the post.

J. C. Fletcher, prominent Toronto horseman, will likely be represented by Lindsay and Ichitara, which finished second and third, respectively, in last year's race. Both horses have been training well.

Crystal Ball and Fair Fortune, from the J. C. Smallman Stable of London, are looked upon as contenders. Quatrabra has improved during the winter months and may be a contender, it is reported.

Norm Forbes, slim and wiry baseball twirler, took eight other men on to the Royal Athletic Park diamond with him last night to beat the Eagles. He did not really need the rest of the team but they were there in case of emergency. Forbes struck out fifteen batters and did not allow one safe hit with the result that the Elks blanked the Eagles by eight runs to nil.

CURTAIN UP ON SOFTBALL

Westholme and Victoria and District Leagues Now in Action

With virtually all grounds in the city in use, the Victoria and District as well as Westholme softball leagues got under way yesterday evening. With the exception of one match, in which the Times went down to a 3-8 defeat before Colwood Wood Company, the winners scored decisive victories.

Jokers, last year winners of both the Westholme and city titles, had a wrench thrown in their machinery at the start, when they dropped their initial encounter with Moore and Whittington Lumber Company to the tune of 12-3. The Y.M.C.A. had little difficulty in sending the Colonists down to a 15-11 defeat, while the Times went under in the final frame after a bang-up game with the Colwood Wood Company.

McDowell & Mann and the Navy gained wins over the J.B.A.A. and Oak Bay respectively with scores of 16-13 and 18-4 in the City League fixtures.

O'DOWD WINS FROM VERDI

Westholme, W. Va., May 6.—Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, Ohio, 128, knocked out Phil Verdi, Cleveland, 130, in the third round of a scheduled ten-round bout here yesterday evening. Verdi was down twice in the second round.

Hall Turns In Fine Card In Colwood Tourney

Wasting no time in starting match play for the championship of the Colwood Golf and Country Club, Walter Hall removed the first obstacle in his bracket yesterday afternoon by taking out J. J. Hodges into camp in the first round of the tournament. Both were out in thirty-nine, to be square at the turn, but after that Hall unleashed a flock of pars and birdies to end the match on the fifteenth with a two, and then proceeded to finish the round with a total for the eighteen holes of seventy-three, ten strokes better than his opponent, and three strokes better than the card turned in by the matchist on Sunday.

Hall's card follows:
Out ..... 554485345-39
In ..... 444485345-39
This is the first of the elimination contests to take place. Others will follow during the week.

Plymouth, Eng., May 6.—Members of the American Walker Cup team reached England to-day on the Ss. Mauretania. All disembarked except Bobby Jones, who remained aboard and proceeded to Southampton. He expressed the opinion that the team's prospects were good.

"But," Jones said, "I am sure that we shall have a very hard fight for I think that Great Britain has got together her strongest team in years. I myself have been playing well, I suppose, but having played a lot of golf I don't like to say too much about that. I have not played for three weeks, however, and got only a little practice on the boat. We shall see how we shape up when we get down to hard practice."

Simmons's Homer Puts Athletics In Top Place

Blow For Circuit In Twelfth Inning Puts Browns Under

World's Champions Finally Get Back to Top of Ladder After Poor Start; Four Homers for Four Runs Give Them Victory Over St. Louis; Indians Pounded by Red Sox and Are Tied With Athletics; Coast Recruit Helps Yankees to Win Over White Sox; Giants Regain Lead.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics have overcome the spotty play that marked their early-season efforts and vaulted back into the lead in the American League race.

At Simmons's fifth homer of the season enabled the Athletics to register their fifth successive victory at the expense of the St. Louis Browns yesterday, 4 to 3, in twelve innings.

Lefty Grove, Athletics ace southpaw, was pounded for three runs in the first two innings but Joe Boley hit two home runs, and Mule Haas one to tie the score by the end of the sixth inning.

Cleveland Indians fell back into a tie with the Athletics for the league lead. Four Indian pitchers were pounded for 23 hits as the Red Sox won 18 to 3, and snapped Cleveland's winning streak of six straight.

SENATORS DROP THIRD
Washington Senators suffered their third straight defeat, losing to Detroit 3 to 1, in a tight pitcher's battle between Lloyd Brown and Lefty Hoggsett.

Vernon Gomez, Pacific Coast League recruit, gave up only five hits as the New York Yankees won their third straight game from the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 1. Lazzeri hit for the circuit in the eighth.

In the National League, the New York Giants went back into first place with a 9 to 1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Bill Walker gave up only six hits, one a homer by George Grantham, and hit for the circuit with the bases filled in the fourth inning.

REDS POUND GRIMES
Cincinnati pounded Burt Grimes for six runs in the first five innings and easily beat the Boston Braves, 10 to 6.

St. Louis and Brooklyn had an off day and the Chicago Cubs played only one inning of their game with the Phillies before rain halted hostilities.

THE NEW CHAMPION

By JIMMY THOMPSON

Freddy Wood is the 1930 British Columbia amateur golf champion. Although Freddy is young in years he has proved himself a vet so far as golf is concerned. Don Carrick, the former golf champion, was loud in his praises for the way that the British Columbia boy played under pressure. Freddy was the last Canadian to be eliminated in the Canadian title and best two of the best golfers this country could produce. The reason that Freddy did not get the amount of publicity usually given stars of the game was because he was not known to the golf fraternity outside of British Columbia. His recent victory in British Columbia shows that he was not playing over his head. As golf can be played almost all year round on the coast, it gives the coast boy the greatest chance in the world to become the new Canadian amateur champion this year. There is a great deal of interest in the east as to just how "Sandy" Somerville and Freddy Wood would stand up against one another this year.

International Hoop Honors Won By Grads In Crushing Victory

Canadian Ladies' Basketball Team Swamps Chicago Squad Under 40-13 Score to Retain Title They Have Held for Six Years, Winning Two-game Series by 64-47; Brilliant Checking of Edmonton Girls Spells Success.

Edmonton, May 6.—Playing one of the greatest games of their long career on the basketball courts, Commercial Graduates overcame a ten-point lead secured by the Chicago Taylor Trunks in the first of a two-game series for the international ladies' basketball championship, and romped away with the verdict by a score of 40-13 yesterday evening, winning the round by 64-47. The game was played before a crowd estimated at over 7,000 people. With their victory the Grads retain the international championship for the seventh year in succession.

Grads opened with a rush and while they were scoring baskets from all angles and from every part of the floor, the Chicago girls were held in check and could not score. The first period found the Grads out in front 6-1 and at the half-way mark, the champions were ahead 13-3, thus gaining a one-point advantage on the round.

Once in the lead and having eliminated that ten-point handicap enjoyed by the U.S. invaders, the local girls were never headed, and forged to the front with plenty of speed and determination. In the third period the Grads outscored the Chicago girls 14-6, and in the final chapter Edmonton was in front 13-5.

TIED UP IN KNOTS
Casie Martin, who scored seventeen points for Chicago in the first game, was held to a lone basket. It was the ability of the Grads to check the visitors to a standstill, that brought them victory.

How One-eye Connelly Used to Work the Trick of Losing His Eye

The One-eye Connelly of the '90s, a clever and suave gate crasher, carried a bag of tricks with him, and one of the best I have seen him work was the lost eye stunt.

Connelly, attired in Prince Albert coat with button-hole bouquet, cane and stiff hat, would stop in front of a cigar store and pretend to lose his eye.

"It was an eye I bought in London," he would say, "and it was very expensive. I would give twenty pounds reward for its return. A search would begin, but the eye could not be found. Connelly would leave his card with the proprietor of the store, scribbling a telephone number on it.

Later a confederate of Connelly's would "find" the eye and inquire in the cigar store if anyone had reported the loss. The cigar store proprietor, seeing a chance to make a smart bargain, would offer the finder $10 or $20 for the eye.

The confederate would accept and the cigar man would call the number One-eye Connelly had given him.

Connelly's favorite number was the morgue.

BEACON NOW MARKS ROCK IN HARBOR

Department of Marine Erects Light on Discovery Rock, Near Johnson Bridge

Mariners sailing small boats in and out of Victoria's upper Inner Harbor will be relieved to learn that a beacon has now been erected on Discovery Rock, immediately to the southwest of the Johnson Street bridge by the Victoria branch office of the Federal Department of Marine. The beacon is now fitted into place following appeals for it by many fishermen and pleasure boat operators who use the upper arm of the Inner Harbor.

The naming of the rock makes an interesting little story and will be recalled by many old-time mariners around Victoria. Capt. C. E. Clarke, who was harbor master of Victoria before Captain Kirkendall, brought a sailing ship, the Discovery, into the harbor in the late nineties and grounded on this rock which ever since has had the name of Capt. Clarke's ship.

When the Johnson Street bridge was erected several years ago the Federal Department of Public Works took eighty feet off the rock but since then several small boats have piled up on this rock when on their way into the filling station of the Walker Coal Company.

DREDGING SOON
The Public Works Department will shortly undertake the dredging of 5,000 yards off the Canadian National piers in the Inner Harbor for the new steamers which will arrive on the coast this summer. The changing of the position of the piers has left mud which was formerly covered by wharves.

J. P. Forde, district engineer for the department left Victoria yesterday morning on an inspection trip around the Gulf Islands in the department cruiser Walrus, commanded by Capt. Harry Adam. He will return to port on Thursday morning. It is the first trip of the Walrus since her recent extensive overhaul. She now presents the appearance of an almost new boat with new housing and interior accommodation. It was originally intended to install a new Diesel engine in the boat to take the place of the old gasoline one, but to date the head office at Ottawa has voted no sum for this. In the meantime the old engine will be used.

New Motorship At Esquimalt For Painting

On her maiden voyage to British Columbia waters, the new motorship Vancouver City, named after the province's largest city, arrived at the William Head quarantine station last night at midnight and this morning at 8 o'clock steamed into the Royal Roads and dropped anchor in Esquimalt harbor.

She will remain there until tomorrow morning, when she will be floated into the government drydock at Esquimalt for cleaning and painting. King Brothers, local shipping agents, are looking after the new ship during her stay here.

The Vancouver City enjoyed a splendid trip from England and arrived at Esquimalt a day ahead of schedule. She will proceed to Vancouver after being released from drydock here.

The Vancouver City is a freighter of 4,955 gross tons, with a length of 418 feet, a beam of fifty-five feet and a depth of twenty-nine feet. She was launched from the shipbuilding yard at Sunderland, England, early this year, for service between European ports and the Pacific Coast by way of the Panama Canal. She carries a complement of thirty-four men.

Japanese Loses Life in Affray In Coldstream

Vernon, B.C., May 6.—Haniichi Matsumoto, Japanese laborer, was killed shortly after last midnight in an affray with his friend, Kikuni Matsumoto, in a small shack in Coldstream municipality. The two Japanese had an argument, and according to Matsumoto's story, Matsumoto attacked him with a knife. In defending himself he employed a wrestling trick, with which he broke Matsumoto's arm, and he thought to have broken his neck as well. Matsumoto is held by the British Columbia police pending an investigation.

The John Kidston apple-packing house, Matsumoto states, Matsumoto had been drinking that night with a white man named Ernie, who left them about 9 o'clock.

No charge has yet been laid against Matsumoto. According to police he has a good record and they are inclined to believe his story of self-defense.

MOTORBUS AND PLANE CUTTING TRAVEL BY RAIL

C.P.R. Manager in East Says Railroad and Steamship Firms Should Co-operate

Montreal, May 6.—Urging greater co-operation between United States railroads and the steamship companies as the salvation of railroad passenger revenues at a Rotary Club luncheon in the Prince Edward Hotel here yesterday, William Baird of Montreal, steamship passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, gave some startling facts about the incursion of the automobile and motor bus into the passenger earnings of the railroads of the North American continent in the last ten years.

Addressing a full meeting of the club, the steamship official feared that the diversions from railroads might be even greater in the next ten years if science and engineering give a greater measure of safety to air travel. "A significant event in transportation," he said, "is the manner of the return of the Prince of Wales from his recent trip through Africa when he traveled by aeroplane from France, across the English Channel and the south coast of England and landed on his own doorstep, Windsor Castle, in a private plane."

A study of railroad reports for the last ten years showed, Mr. Baird said, that only $13.70 of every $100 earned by the railroads was accounted for by passenger traffic to-day as against $22.70 at the beginning of the decade and the finding of new buyers by automobile manufacturers will make the drift from rail to motor road for vacation travel even greater.

During the same decade, the speaker pointed out, steamship operators have reorganized almost their entire fleets on the Atlantic and have launched sixty-eight large new liners since the war at a capital expenditure of around $340,000,000. Speed, luxury of accommodation, and the organization of travel tours of Europe by the Canadian Pacific and other transatlantic lines have been enhanced within recent years and rates have been adjusted to meet the needs of tourists. "It is possible now," Mr. Baird stated, "for the tourist to book an all expense tour from his own home town, tour Europe and return knowing in advance exactly how much he will require to spend."

MacDonald Does Not Talk With Hunger Marchers
London, May 6.—Thirteen "hunger marchers," including two young women wearing bright scarves, attempted to gain entrance to Premier MacDonald's residence at number 10 Downing Street to-day, but were turned away by a cordon of police.

The marchers planned another demonstration to-morrow near the Tower of London under the auspices of the National Unemployed Workers' Movement. The demonstrators reached London May 1 after marching from various towns at a protest against unemployment.

SAN FRANCISCO SHIPPING

Taking the place of the famous old cutter near three years ago, the steamer Northland was launched on her 1920 Alaskan cruise. Her first stop will be Seattle, where she will go to Dutch Harbor and other Far North ports. She is in command of Capt. E. D. Jones.

On her maiden voyage, the new Japanese liner Taisui Maru is due here Thursday from the Orient with a large list of passengers.

Arrival of the motorship will mark the culmination of the N.Y.K. Company's $1,000,000 building programme for the Orient-California service.

SPRING TIME SALADS

Springtime salads fill a very important place in springtime menus. They add the touch of piquancy that stimulates appetite and contribute many vitamins and mineral salts.

Cottage cheese is an excellent spring food, and when combined with other vegetables furnishes a salad particularly fitting to serve with fish.

Since cottage cheese is a product of sour milk it contains many of the bacteria which are so beneficial in counteracting the effects of a diet rich in protein. Sour milk also is classed as one of the "protective" foods. In cottage cheese the valuable properties of sour milk are supplied in a palatable way.

COAST SHIP ON FIRST VOYAGE

H. F. Alexander Now on First Trip of 1930 Season Along Pacific Coast

Seattle, May 6.—On the first voyage of the season, the Pacific Steamship Company's liner H. F. Alexander, Capt. Fred Nystrom, commander, arrived in Seattle yesterday from San Francisco. The vessel's passengers included H. B. Brittan of San Francisco, general passenger agent of the Pacific Steamship Company, and Mrs. Brittan.

A big passenger list, which to-day totaled 350, is being booked for the H. F. Alexander's first outward voyage of the season from Seattle, which started at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Special low rates have been offered for the initial voyage of the vessel.

Tourists and others who travel on the H. F. Alexander this summer will be offered special entertainment in the form of Harry Kerry's Alexanderians, a professional five-piece orchestra. For many years Kerry had control of all the larger orchestras in hotels and cabarets in the Orient. He has made several trips around the world on Dollar Line ships.

The Colonel talks on Protection

"Don't you believe in protection for cigars?" I asked my friend Taylor. "Oh, let's not talk politics," said he. "I don't mean that kind of protection. I mean protecting the flavor of the tobacco—protecting the cigar from breakage—protecting it against drying out—protecting . . ."

"Oh, certainly, I believe in that kind of protection," said Taylor. "Well then, what you should smoke is a foil-wrapped Marguerite cigar in the handy pocket packs of 5 cigars, for if ever a cigar was well protected, it's the Marguerite."

This Only

is KRAFT CHEESE
...the smallest slice is clearly marked

Kraft Cheese offers you everything you expect . . . tenderness . . . creamy goodness . . . exquisite "cave-cured" flavor . . . plus health benefits.

...and now to make sure you get all these when you order "Kraft," the Kraft Loaf is being wrapped in a new distinctive silver foil that makes identification easy and positive!

More women ask for Kraft Cheese every day than all other brands combined but they don't all get it.

When you order Kraft Cheese, look for the name "Kraft Canadian" that appears on every slice cut from the new Kraft loaf, then you will be sure that you are getting what you pay for.

The name "Kraft" appears on every slice of Kraft Cheese. It is the only positive identification of the genuine.

Happy Valley

A pleasing ceremony took place Friday afternoon at the Happy Valley School when the Perpetual Challenge Cup, donated by the Lutton and Happy Valley Women's Institute for competition in a girls' interschool basketball league, was awarded to the winning team, Happy Valley School.

L. G. Matthews, principal of Happy Valley School, acted as chairman, and expressed appreciation of the generosity of the institute in donating such a handsome cup. Mrs. David Welch, president Lutton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, stressed two important points, namely, good sportsmanship and a friendly attitude to the other players. Mrs. Welch told of the invention of the game in 1891 in the United States as an indoor winter game. Mrs. Welch then called upon the vice-president, Mrs. John Truce, who with a few well chosen words presented the cup to one of the members of the team, Margaret McEwan. Thanks was extended the donors by a team member, Ruth Anderson.

Arthur Mitchell, Former Victorian, Died in New York

A wide circle of friends will learn with sincere regret of the death of Arthur Mitchell, who died suddenly at his residence, Bronxville, New York, on Sunday evening, following a brief illness. He is survived by his widow, who is a niece of W. J. Bowser, K.C., of Victoria; one son, Arthur Mitchell, his mother, who resides at Springfield, Mass., and two brothers, resident in Philadelphia. Mr. Bowser left this afternoon for New York.

Another Nova Scotian In the Public Eye

Col. the Hon. J. L. Ralston, M.P., has been much in the public eye of late for reasons other than that he is the Dominion's Minister of Defence. Some political star-gazers say he is going to soon more and more in the eye of the public. They say this is inevitable because he is a Nova Scotian.

Experience shows that once a Nova Scotian politician gets into the public eye he becomes a beam that simply refuses to be cast out. Ever since Joseph Howe thought twice before entering Confederation Nova Scotians have been getting into Dominion Cabinets for keeps. Col. Ralston is a true Nova Scotian.

The Winnipeg service monthly, The Khaki Call, says he was a good soldier, too. Col. Ralston demurs about this; he insists he has always been a civilian. They may fight it out between them while we listen to the story Khaki Call tells.

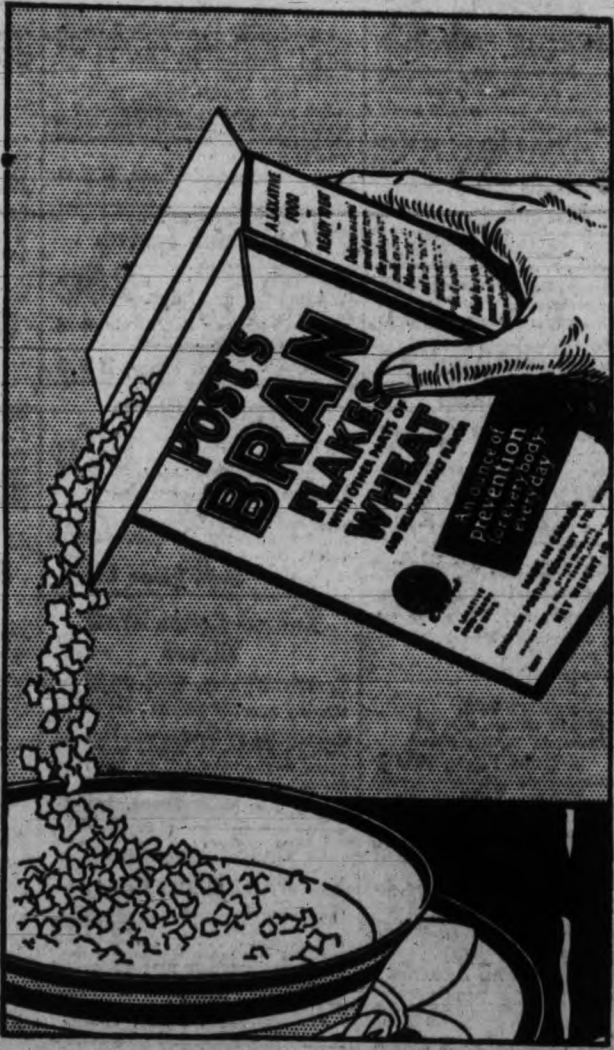

"Ralston," it says, "is one of the men who have earned the Victoria Cross—most coveted of decorations—and who never got it. Not only so, but he is a superior officer. But the higher command declined to sanction the award, and no doubt Ralston was the first man to declare their decision fair and just. His deed, unlike so many other heroic deeds, was not performed in the tumult and excitement of battle; nor was it inspired during an attack upon the enemy. It was a deed performed in cold blood and from the purest of motives—humanity."

Mrs. Shaw has returned from a trip to Nanaimo to St. Aidan's School, Island Highway. Mr. W. Newcombe and J. Pullen have moved from "Bridleway" to "Bridleway" Langford Lake, for the summer. ## Royal Oak

Mrs. Louis Duval, a pioneer lady of Royal Oak, whose cheery and sympathetic disposition has won for her many friends, was pleasantly surprised on Friday afternoon, when a number of neighbors and friends called to offer congratulations on her seventy-third birthday.

Refreshments were provided by the guests, the table decorations being tulips and narcissi, with candles, the birthday cake centring the table. The guests included: Mesdames Duval, Rankin, Pimlott, Young, Quirk, Kelly, Jones, Scott, Leithman, Houghton, Duval Jr., the Misses Goodshaw, Mr. Kelly, Rev. T. Keyworth, Mr. Lehman, Hazel Duval and Blanche Houghton.

Mrs. Towler entertained a few of her friends at her home, Fairbairn Road, on Friday afternoon, with a delightful tulip tea. The drawing-room was tastefully decorated with bronzes-colored tulips, and the beautiful blooms in the garden were much admired. ## Colwood

A large gathering assembled Friday night at Colwood Hall for the presentation of the challenge cup in the inter-school boys' basketball league, donated by the Colwood Women's Institute. The teams in the league were: Colwood, Goldstream, Sooke and North Sooke and at the end of the basketball season Colwood and Goldstream stood a tie, close matches having been played throughout. In the play-off Colwood carried off the honors.

An exhibition basketball game was played Friday night, Colwood and Goldstream uniting in one team against a picked team from Sooke and North Sooke. R. Little of Sooke acted as referee. Hard playing was witnessed throughout, resulting in a win for Goldstream and Colwood, score being 22-7.

Line-up as follows: Colwood and Goldstream—B. Shields.

R. Piercy, A. Peatt, J. Brown and F. McKennie. Sooke and North Sooke—R. Pontious, E. Shephard, B. Charters, S. Grey and W. Head. Miss Kelly, president of the Colwood Women's Institute, when presenting the cup pointed out the value of school sports in the moulding of character, and urged them to play the game, to be good losers as well as good winners.

J. T. Bruce, principal of Colwood School, thanked the institute and the public for the keen interest shown in the league's activities. Arrangements for the evening were in the hands of Mesdames T. Godfrey, R. Parker and E. M. Piercy, assisted by other members of the institute. Major T. Godfrey acted as chairman.

The following officers were elected: Manager R. W. Robinson; honorary president, Rev. A. L. Nixon; vice-president, G. A. Turner; committee, Capt. James R.N., J. T. Bruce, E. R. Johnson, present members of the St. John's Church committee and R. B. Jeffery; secretary, Capt. James R.N. The manager, R. W. Robinson, announced that A. Peatt had kindly consented to allow the club the use of one of his fields for sports and games. It was decided softball would be the principal game for the coming season, and a committee of the manager, B. Shields and A. Peatt were appointed with the club elect later the captain and sub-captain of the team. An entrance fee will be made to all boys over twelve in addition to the monthly subscription. Rev. A. L. Nixon spoke briefly on the subject of good sportsmanship. Mr. and Mrs. T. Robinson and children of Port Alberni, who were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Tyler, have returned to their Up-Island home. Miss M. Blackstad, a recent visitor of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Robinson, has returned to Vancouver.

When her gallant counted her in the formal fashion of those distant 1770 days, you may be sure her pretty coyness was made the more winsome by the Lovable Fragrance of the Yardley Lavender. ## CITY SEEKS BID ON RACE CONCESSIONS

Ten-year Extension of Horse Racing at Willows Is Aimed At

Warm Fight Ensues Over Offer of Colwood Park Association

Tenders for the Willows horse racing concession for the ten-year period 1932 to 1942 are open to all in the Pacific Northwest who care to bid on the favor, having regard to certain conditions the city will require in the placement of its race track, buildings and appurtenances. The City Council decided suddenly on this course yesterday evening, after considerable debate. Bids are returnable on May 19 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mayor Anselm, Alderman Marx, Worthington, Adams, Smith and Smith supported a final motion to call for tenders for the ten-year extension of the racing concession. Alderman Dellar, Litchfield, Woodward, Feden and Cullin voted against that course.

Alderman Woodward, Litchfield, Feden and Cullin would have negotiated further with the Colwood Park Association by way of a special committee to analyze the existing bid of the present concessionaires, for further report to the council.

FIRST PROPOSAL

The Colwood Park Association offers the city a new five-eighths-mile track, and the equivalent in all of $30,000 in buildings and equipment for an extension of its present lease on the concession from 1922 onwards for a ten-year period, on plans that were said to mesh with the offer of the Provincial Government to spend $35,000 at the Willows if the city would match the grant with a like sum.

Alderman Dewar stood out very firmly against any extension at the Willows beyond the years 1930 and 1931, already contained for, and opposed further expenditure at the Willows, which he classed as not in the best interests of Victoria citizens.

FAVOR COLWOOD BID

The majority of the council declared itself on the issue one way or another. A letter was read from the city members on the B.C. Agricultural Association strongly favoring further negotiation with the Colwood Park Association, whose offer was said to fit in with other proposals for the Willows, and to be a good basis on which to start negotiations.

The city was facing a serious matter at the Willows, said Mr. Litchfield. Something had to be done about the buildings if the Provincial Government's offer of $35,000 was to be accepted, and yet nothing could be done until the race track and grandstand were moved and rebuilt further north of the present site. Calling for new bids for an extension of the racing concession would retard action for two years if the present leases were unsuccessful bidders, he warned.

Mr. Woodward and Mr. Litchfield sponsored a resolution that consideration be given forthwith the Colwood Park Association's offer, which was preferred, they said, for early acceptance or rejection.

TEN-YEAR EXTENSION

Mr. Marx moved in amendment that the city call openly for tenders for a ten-year extension of the racing concession, operative in 1932 and later. It was in the interest of the citizens that the city secure the best offer obtainable in an open bidding, he averred. The present concessionaires proposed that they be relieved of the necessity of using automatic betting machines after two years. Use of the machines, he said, had been uppermost in the council's mind when the agreement had been entered.

No offer had been invited by the city in the first place, said Mayor Anselm, who favored an open call for bids if any extension of the privilege were to be considered.

NEW MONEY BY-LAW

The Colwood Park Association was in possession of the lease, and was willing to put in the improvements the city desired to fit in with its other plans for the Willows, said Mr. Woodward. The city was already in receipt of an offer by the Provincial Government to spend $35,000 at the Willows, if the ratepayers passed a money by-law voting a like sum to building and other improvements there, he stated.

Mr. Woodward moved that the offer of the present concessionaires be accepted as a basis for further negotiation, and that a special committee be struck to proceed with such negotiations. It was a good offer, he said, from Victoria people, using Victoria capital.

The city and its environs were moving ahead, and it would be difficult for anyone to say what the racing concession would be really worth in two years' time, commented Mr. Smith.

MAYOR THROWS ACTION

Mayor Anselm—I am very anxious to have the Willows grounds developed. I think as public trustees we should make an open offer for tenders. If we don't do that we are binding ourselves to accept the first bid anyone makes us on a question of this nature.

Mr. Litchfield—On what basis could the city call for tenders?

Mayor Anselm—On the basis of two years' hence. As public trustees we should say to everyone, "What have you got to offer?"

Mr. Dewar—I believe the offer made by the Colwood Park Association is a good one. It might be made the basis, at least, of further negotiation. I believe we can get just as good a result by working with what we have on hand.

COURT RULES TRUST COMPANY AND AN ESTATE

Vancouver, May 6.—Although exonerating the Toronto General Trusts Corporation of dishonesty, Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, after a five-day trial in the British Columbia Supreme Court here, found it had been guilty of a breach of trust in the administration of the estate of the late Thomas Ross. The result was that the plaintiff, Isabella MacCallum, who was the widow, and is now the wife of William C. MacCallum, was awarded judgment with costs against the Toronto General Trusts Corporation. A reference before the registrar at New Westminster was directed to determine the amount of damages. Mrs. MacCallum claimed $125,000.

It was contended on behalf of the plaintiff that the trust company's representatives committed an error of judgment when they decided to carry on the business in which Mr. J. J. Ross was engaged at the time of his death here in April, 1925. The business was carried on until August, 1925, when a receiving order in bankruptcy was made against it. After all expenses were paid nothing was left for the plaintiff, whereas at the time of the death of Mr. Ross the business had a net value of $100,000.

Mr. Justice Macdonald pointed out the will directed the Toronto General Trusts Corporation to pay all the deceased's debts as soon after death as might be convenient.

The judge also stated he was satisfied the plaintiff desired the business to continue, but added in effect that she lacked business ability.

"I have heard it said, and I agree, that a healthy mind likes and needs music as much as a healthy stomach likes and needs breakfast," Dr. Willan stated. "These musical festivals are doing a valuable work among school children. In and round about London, England, it is the custom for every boy to join the choir. Tommy Jones because his father and his grandfather joined the choir. So are musical communities developed here."

"I put singing in ahead of anything else as an educative force."

"When you meet with a community which sings you will generally find that community far ahead of districts which do not sing, and singing."

Praising the Kiwanis Club for organizing its excellent orchestra, Dr. Willan urged the members to take up singing as a club activity, recommending as changes as excellent material for such efforts.

"Competition singing in festivals too often stops at the competition and overlooks the festival idea. Jealousy frequently develops between groups and often causes a loss of valuable results. It would be sure to result in a vast amount of good," Dr. Willan said.

He quoted a great English musician as suggesting that if leading choirs from all nations were gathered in united singing they would provide a great medium for promotion of international amity.

"When you think of competition festivals doing their utmost to educate the younger people through advancement of music, you serve men must realize the great value of the work being done," he concluded.

Ronald Gibson, of Winnipeg, also spoke at the festival, and Harold Beckwith, acting president of the festival, were guests at the head table and were introduced by President G. H. Stevens.

ROCKLAND AVE. DEAL DISPUTED

Supreme Court Asked to Decide Between Buyer and Seller in Suit

Action opened before Mr. Justice Fisher in the Supreme Court to-day in a suit by Mrs. Pauline L. Miller against Clifford E. Whitaker, on a disputed claim for $1,500 alleged due on an agreement between parties in respect to the transfer of property at 1500 Rockland Avenue.

Plaintiff sets up that in December, 1929, an agreement was made whereby she was to sell and the defendant to buy the premises at a price of $30,000 on terms. This agreement, it is further contended, was varied, and the sum of $17,500 tendered by the defendant in place of $19,000 anticipated by the plaintiff in satisfaction of an outstanding balance. Suit is instituted for the difference alleged by the plaintiff to be due.

Carew Martin appears for the plaintiff and H. A. Maclean, K.C., for the defendant. Hearing proceeds with the taking of evidence.

DR. NEWTON ON PLANT DISEASE

Experimental Farm Official Speaks Before North Saanich Horticultural Society

Sidney, May 6.—Dr. William Newton of the Dominion Experimental Farm addressed the monthly meeting of the North Saanich Horticultural Society at Wesley Hall on "Light in Relation to Plant Diseases."

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Newton.

President L. E. Taylor spoke on the fourth annual flower show of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, held at the Willows last week, and thanked the members for the many strenuous hours of work spent on the district exhibit.

It was suggested by one of the members that more explicit rules be laid out regarding the Guide and Scout display, and the mutilating of thousands of wild flowers as used in the exhibit.

Arrangements were made for an open air meeting to be held on May 17, when the society hopes to visit the Victoria Nurseries at Royal Oak; the Rockholme Gardens, and Mr. Bennett's Alpine Garden.

It was decided to hold an all-day basket picnic on June 3 through the kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. White at their summer home at Killarney Lake.

The results of the monthly competition were announced as follows: Best five tulips, variety—1, Mrs. Bastion; 2, Mr. Corfield; 3, J. A. Nunn. There were no entries for the lettuce, and the special prize presented by Mr. Nunn for the best three sticks of rhubarb, went to Mr. Corfield.

The next meeting will be held at Killarney Lake on June 3. The subjects for competition are five iris and a collection of vegetables. J. J. White will donate a special prize for the best six roses exhibited.

RAGS AND BONES DISCOUNTED NOW

At one time rags and bones used to be a premium around the city when the rag men, with their rickshaws and buggy, called from house to house to pick up this waste material. But this business has now gone down to the rag men, and a few fish remains and bottles, along Craigflower Road. The authorities of Esquimalt objected to the donation and took Mr. Leach to court on a charge of dumping garbage. As a result the rag men were forced to pay a $5 fine to the municipality.

LANCASHIRE WINS IN O.C. CRICKET

Gain First Victory of Season By Beating Northants; Several Games Abandoned

London, May 6.—Owing to rain the following cricket matches were abandoned to-day:

Australia vs. Leicestershire at Leicester.

Nottinghamshire vs. Sussex at Nottingham.

Warwickshire vs. Glamorganshire at Birmingham.

Kent vs. Oxford University at Oxford.

Surrey won by an innings and 224 runs from Worcestershire at the Kenning Oval, the scores being: Worcestershire 40 and 183 (Victor Fox, 58; Alton, four wickets for 80 runs; Stroud, four wickets for 36). Surrey, 447 for eight wickets.

Lancashire got their first win of the season when they beat Northamptonshire at Manchester by an innings and 51 runs, scores being: Northants, 132 and 164 (Hopwood, five wickets for 40 runs; Tyldesley, five wickets for 49 runs); Lancashire, 337 for six wickets declared.

At one time rags and bones used to be a premium around the city when the rag men, with their rickshaws and buggy, called from house to house to pick up this waste material. But this business has now gone down to the rag men, and a few fish remains and bottles, along Craigflower Road. ## TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, May 6.—Wheat: Market closed better. Demand for wheat today and after opening from 1 to 1 1/2 higher than the market held very steady within a narrow range. Liverpool was stronger than due and at the start there was fair buying by seaboard, while shorts were also covering. The bulk of the selling was credited to the pool who were unloading July wheat most of the day, but the offerings were well absorbed and the market reached highest levels during the last half hour.

Export sales overnight were estimated from one to two million bushels with many indications that the higher figures were nearest correct. The pool did the bulk of the business, but other exporters also received some business, but very little of it was reflected in the local pit.

The stabilization corporation also announced that they had sold all its cash wheat held at seaboard and at the Gulf. In the cash market millers shippers and terminal interests were after the various grades of wheat, while bids on grades in special demand 1/4 to 3/8 over the previous close.

Offerings on the whole were only moderate.

There was no particular feature to the flour market. Statistics abroad are not bearish although shipments increased 1,100,000 bushels compared with last week's record low clearance.

North America has exported about 885,000 bushels so far this season or fifty percent more than a year ago, while total world's shipments have been about thirty less than last year.

Some further rains were reported in the southwest and a few showers were received in western Canada where temperatures continued cold with night frosts.

For the time being we believe the bear news has been mostly discounted and we favor bid purchases.

Coars grains—These markets were all higher and following the trend of wheat. Trade volume, however, was light. No feature to either the futures or cash market.

Flour—Trade very dull with no interest shown.

UNEMPLOYMENT
AND INSURANCE
TO BE DISCUSSED

Vancouver, May 6.—Unemployment insurance and Vancouver relief costs will be discussed at a meeting between members of the Provincial Government and the City Council in Victoria on Thursday. This was announced at the city hall following receipt of advice that Premier Talmie had arranged for the Cabinet to meet a civic committee on that day.

The city recently memorialized the Federal Government, endorsing unemployment insurance. Hon. Peter MacLean, Minister of Labor, replied that this question had been referred to the several Provincial Governments.

The city will also ask that the Provincial Government pay one-third the cost of relief employment here, and also ask the Federal Government to bear a similar share of the cost.

C.N.R. Extends
Its New Terminal
Plans in Toronto

Ottawa, May 6.—Government legislation was introduced in the House of Commons yesterday, under which the amount of money the Canadian National Railways may spend on its terminal facilities in Toronto may be increased from $10,500,000 to $15,150,000. The bill, which was introduced by Hon. T. A. Cresser, Minister of Railways and Canals, was given first reading.

The Minister informed Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, that the total amount spent by the Canadian National Railways on its Toronto facilities, including the viaduct and yard changes, was about $17,000,000.

TOBACCO STOCKS
TAKE BULL LEAD AS RECOVERY HOLDS

Violence of Yesterday Succeeded By Orderly Wall St. Market To-day

Copper Stocks Slump Again, However, on New Cut in Metal Price

New York, May 6 (B.C. Bond).—At the close of the market this afternoon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks at 268.4, up 1.1 points from the day before, and for 20 rails at 143.05, up 0.87 points, and for 30 utilities at 88.41, up 0.41 points.

After the violent activity of yesterday, the stock market to-day was orderly, and except for a small spell of irregularity around midday, it was strong.

TOBACCO FEATURES

Reappearance of buying on a substantial scale in the cigarette manufacturing stocks took American tobacco to new high levels for the year, giving rise to fresh rumors of a split-up and higher dividend.

After the violent activity of yesterday, the stock market to-day was orderly, and except for a small spell of irregularity around midday, it was strong.

BIG ONE-HOLD GAINS

U.S. Steel common, American Can and General Electric were not featured, but they were able to hold their gains fairly well, as steel traded between 17 1/2 and 17 3/4, closing around 17 3/4.

Vanadium dipped as low as 98, then closed up around 100 1/2.

As was to be expected, Radio made a notable comeback, and some active short covering was reported in the more volatile issues.

MORE COPPER LOWS

Copper stocks were heavy on the announcement of the cut in the official price to 25 cents per pound, and the expectation that it would shortly be put down at 23 1/2. Other new lows included Inspiration at 18 1/2, Kennecott at 4 1/2, Masama at 2 1/2, and Anaconda at 17 1/2.

CUBA RECOVERS

On the Cuba, Cities Service acted well and at 34 to 35 had recovered about 50 per cent of the ground lost in three days of heavy selling and about 30 per cent of the recession from the year's high.

Electric Bonds and Shares firmed up from 94 1/2 to 99 1/2.

United Founders strengthened from 28 1/2 to 30 1/2.

MARKET MAY TURN DULL

If the present situation is similar to others in the last year, the price dip has resulted in the transfer of considerable stock from speculative to investment hands.

Another drive on prices is expected in many quarters, but on the other hand, it is quite possible that, instead of another burst of unsettlement, the market will steady around current levels, with a small daily turnover and with individual issues featured.

INDIAN TERRITORY OIL BREAK

Unless Indian Territory Oil shares recover more vigorously than they have thus far, it is reported it may interfere with the reported plan of Cities Service, which controls Indian Territory, to offer Cities Service stockholders the right to purchase Indian.

CANADA DRY EXPANDING

Canada Dry has held up well and although earnings for the first three months of this year were slightly lower, due to the expenses involved in the development of two new products, one of which was introduced last week, the present dividend is seen as well secured and there is little foundation for the rumor that it will be reduced.

MARKET SUPPORT INEFFECTIVE

The Herald-Tribune says it is impossible to say how much support coming had to do with the recovery in the market and how much was due to banking support, but there is little doubt that both contributed their share and bargain hunters were also a sustaining influence, with investment trusts prominent.

MARMON BIKES CASH DIVIDEND

Marmon Motor Car Company declared a dividend of two per cent in common, payable June 2 to record May 19. In the previous quarter the company declared a quarterly dividend of fifty cents in cash and prior to that quarterly dividend of $1.

Chrysler April shipments were 34,837 units, compared with 33,816 in March and 30,786 in April, 1929.

Control of India Motorcycles has passed from N. T. Belles, president and associates, to E. Paul Dupont and associates.

OUTSIDE PUBLIC NOT HURT MOST.

The New York Times declares that "it is the speculative Wall Street market rather than the outside adventurer, who has gone overboard in this month's market."

The decline of the last few weeks has simply been the penalty of a preceding advance which had badly overestimated the speculative influence of cheap money, and which either ignored or misjudged the money situation.

The World says:

New Haven sold down to within one-eighth of the price of 107 fixed by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the level where it might buy stock, and in some quarters it is thought the stock might find itself pegged near this level by such buying. The Journal of Commerce points out:

The N.Y. American declares that Standard Oil of New Jersey should enjoy a prominent place among the few active stocks which will feature the dull market expected.

NOT TIME TO FOLLOW UP

Wall Street Mirror issued the following to its clients:

"Those in a mood to buy stocks should not follow them up at this time. The drastic decline which has been seen in the market calls for more than a rally of one hour. Prices should normally move upward during most of today's session and well into tomorrow's trading."

"There is this to be said, however, if the rally fails to hold, much lower prices will be seen for stocks."

"Support buying from high quarters made its appearance in the market for the first time yesterday. This buying was not so much of the scale variety as it was of the nature of the scale variety, banking fraternity wanted to see the market. Just how long this support stock will be held is now the question."

"Among the stocks which gave a good account of themselves were Westinghouse, American Refrigerator, Westinghouse Gas, Public Service, General Motors, Remington Rand, American Tobacco, B. International Nickel, American Rolling Mills."

"Banks who usually act for Morgan were buyers of Cities Service, Jersey, Jersey and American Telephone & Telegraph."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Can the Most Loving Husband in the World Make Up for His Shiftlessness by His Ardor?—At What Age Is It Best for a Man to Marry?

DEAR MISS DIX—I have an adoring husband. He is an extremely handsome and charming man, a college graduate and a perfect lover, whose love-making grows more ardent and more beautiful as the years go on. But here is the catch. He would do anything in the world for me except work. He would die for me, but he won't keep a job. He is a penitent, poetic dreamer who just can't bear the thought of labor in any form. Consequently, we haven't a thing. We are shabby, I haven't had a new dress in ages, and we live on what our parents are kind enough to give us.

What can a woman do with a husband like that, I ask you? I am so discouraged I think of leaving him and trying to support myself, but I can never decide whether I will be better off with new, respectable clothes and no one to love me, or with the most loving husband in the world and without rags to wear. What is the answer to my problem?

BLUE ROSE.

Answer—It seems to me that the very best proof of love that a man can give to a woman is when he rolls up his sleeves and goes to work to support her in comfort. Words are cheap. It is easy enough and pleasant enough for a man to tell a woman how he adores her, and quote poetry to her, and he may mean it, or he may be just merely a sentimentalist and fancy himself in the role of a romantic lover.

But when a man says it with standing behind a counter when he would like to be out loafing in the sunshine or going fishing, or amusing himself; when he says it by pounding a sledge hammer eight hours a day or sticking to his desk through summer heat and winter cold, in order that his wife may be kept soft and comfortable, it is a proof of devotion that there is no arguing about. His love is a tangible thing. It is something for which he is willing to sacrifice himself. He tells that his wife may rest. He gives up his ease and comfort that she may have luxuries. He buys her frills and furbelows with weariness, with blood and sweat, and no man can show greater love than this.

Personally, I shouldn't lend a very attentive ear to the love-making of a husband who was willing to let me live on charity, and wear my relatives' cast-off clothing and stand off the bill collector, while he wrote a sonnet to my eyebrows and told me that I was the only woman in the world for him. I would feel that if he really cared for me he would get out and hustle a little and bring in the bacon instead of a new madrigal. But the great majority of women do not take this view of the subject.

Most wives put more strength on soft talk than they do on hard labor, and I get innumerable letters from lachrymose ladies who tell me that they are heartbroken because, although their husbands are faithful and domestic and support them in luxury, they know that they do not love them because they never tell them so.

Of course, the poor husbands naturally think that when a man slays like a dray horse to give his wife a fine house and a good car and imported gowns, she might deduce from that fact that he had some affection for her without his having to tell her so. He thinks it is unnecessary for a man, who gives an everyday performance of being a perfect husband, to go about proclaiming the state of his affections as it would for him to go around telling everybody that he was an honest man or a good doctor or a successful grocer, but women don't feel that way about it. So there we are.

Of course, when a woman has a husband who won't work, he won't work, and that's that. There is no magic that can use that will turn a loafer into a hustler, or put pep in the peeples or brace up the spinal cord of one without backbone. Nor can you turn a dreamer into a practical man who will see his opportunities and grab them.

It is useless for a wife who is married to that kind of man to try to change him. There is just something left out of him that she can't put into him, and she wears herself out and breaks her heart in vain, in trying to do it.

Only two courses are open to her in dealing with him. One is to divorce him and put him entirely out of her life. The other is to do the best she can to speak and go out and make the living for the family herself, and just accept him as he is and make the best of him on that basis, as many a man does with a no-account, impractical wife.

And sometimes this dreamy, shiftless sort of man is so sweet in nature, so pleasant to get along with, so interesting a companion and so affectionate that he is worth his board and keep, and his wife is happier with him than she would be with a less agreeable man who was a go-getter.

It is up to you to decide whether you would rather be fed on sentiment or filed on salmon.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a young man twenty-five years old, with a substantial income, and have been considering entering the matrimonial state. I have been asking the advice of several married men and they all, without exception, advise me to put it off until I am forty years old. I have also asked several confirmed bachelors their opinion and they tell me to think it over for fifteen or twenty years before marrying. I notice in your answers to correspondents that you advise marriage, yet you are an old maid yourself. How come?

JAMES F.

Answer—It doesn't come, James. I am not an old maid and never was one, because I was married when I was barely out of my teens, but even if I had never married it would not unfit me to express an opinion on marriage. Lookers-on, you know, see most of the game.

But as to your problem about the best age to marry. I am very much opposed to men marrying before they arrive at their maturity, before they are ready to settle down, and before they are able to afford a family. A young boy's taste is not formed. He doesn't know what he is going to want in a wife when he is grown up, because he doesn't know what sort of a man he is going to become himself, so he takes a double risk in a venture that has enough hazards in it at best.

A boy hasn't had his fling. He wants to run around and enjoy himself. He wants to flirt with many girls and dance and kick up his heels like a colt in a pasture. Responsibilities gail him. Duties are hateful to him. Just the feeling of being tied down to a wife makes him feel as if he were in jail, and regret the liberty he has thrown away.

So the boy husband is no fireside companion and only too often he makes a sorry companion if he has to stay at home with his wife and the babies, or else he breaks away and leaves them alone while he goes out to amuse himself. Which makes him a total loss as a husband.

The boy who marries before he has the price of a wedding ring nearly always hopelessly handicaps himself for life. It takes all he can make, and more, to feed and clothe his wife and children. He can never get ahead because he can never save anything. He cannot afford to give up a poor job to look for a better one. He gets discouraged and dispirited and cannot put into his work the enthusiasm that would carry him on to success.

But if it is a bad thing for a boy to marry too young, it is equally a bad thing to put it off too long, because, after all, youth is the mating season, it is the time of romance and illusion, the time of ardent feelings and desires, and all of these enter into a successful marriage.

Also it is when a man and woman are young and pliable in disposition, that they can best adapt themselves to each other. As we get old our opinions and views harden into convictions and prejudices that we find impossible to change. Also we acquire little ways and develop personal peculiarities that we are not willing to give up for anyone.

Nor is marriage one of the things that bears thinking over too much. If you let your mind dwell too long on its dangers it will sap your courage so that you will never have the hardihood to venture it at all. And if you spend fifteen or twenty years, as your friends suggest, in formulating the list of virtues that you shall demand in a wife, you will never find a paragon who will come up to your ideal.

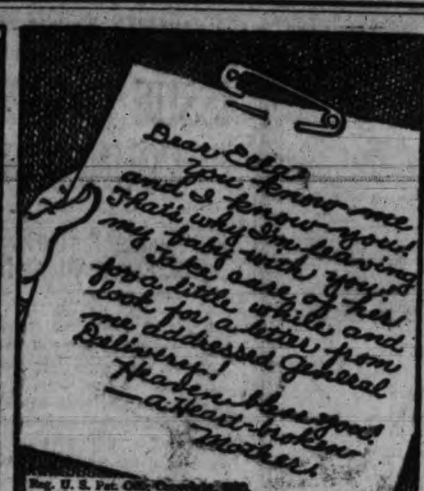

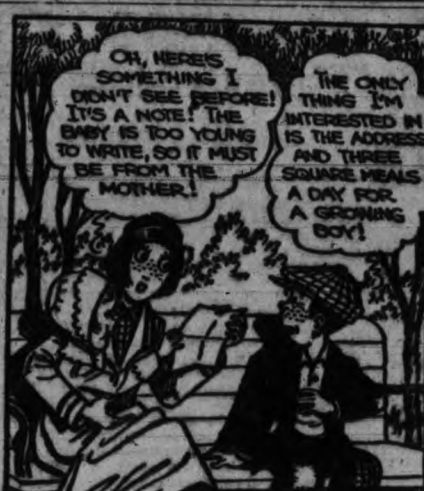

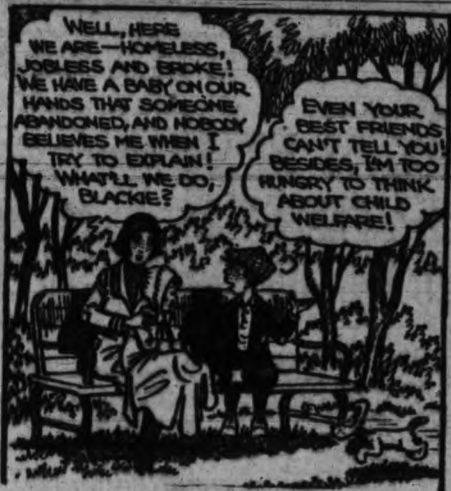

Moreover, by the time you are forty or forty-five your romantic dreams will have become as thin as the hair on the top of your head, and you will find that a good dinner has more power to thrill you than any lady's foot.

So don't marry either too young or too old. Around the 30s is the ideal time for a man to marry. His head and his heart then play their proper part in his choice of a wife.

CLOVER POINT ISSUE CREATES COUNCIL STIR

City Council Rebuked By I.O.D.E. For Evasion of Duty

Reproached by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter of the I.O.D.E. for what was intimated as an evasion of civic duty, the City Council reversed its action of the Clover Point lands yesterday evening, and voted to seek title outright from the Dominion authorities at Ottawa.

This action was taken over a warning by Alderman Worthington that the city had already 7,000 feet of waterfront lands of its own, and was pinched for park lands.

The I.O.D.E. letter cited what were described as deplorable conditions prevailing at Clover Point at present, and expressed some resentment that the Chapter should have been asked to "use its influence" to secure title to the lands from the Dominion Government. Such negotiations should be undertaken by the council itself, for the purpose of preserving a site of historical and scenic significance, the City Fathers were reminded.

The city had made sincere efforts to secure title to the land for park purposes, said Alderman Woodward, but had been met by the imposition of conditions it could not entertain. There would be little harm in again attempting to open up the subject, commented Alderman Dewar.

Alderman Worthington and Mara stressed the difficulty of securing funds to devote to existing park lands, without adding to present holdings. Title to the land and at the same time a grant to develop it would be more in keeping with the city's present position, they said.

SOON AN ISLAND

The sea was fast washing away the extremity of the point, said Alderman Straith and unless something were done by way of retaining wall Clover Point would soon be an island, he averred. The council should ask the Dominion authorities for title to the land, and set it aside for park purposes. It could then be developed when the money to do so was available, he suggested.

Alderman Straith and Dewar sponsored a motion to seek title to the property, and this carried. Alderman Worthington and Mara voted in the negative.

INCENTIVE TO BUILD

A new plumbing by-law, to lessen the cost of plumbing in normal building construction and to simplify requirements generally, was introduced by Alderman Smith and received first readings. The measure is approved by the Victoria Sanitary and Heating Engineers, and also by the association of Journeymen Plumbers and Steamfitters, the council was informed. Its effect, said Mr. Smith, would be a lowering of plumbing costs, with a

Hollywood Might Be Victoria Suburb, Says G. I. Warren

Talk of annexation by the United States of British Columbia was introduced by J. A. H. Kerr, prominent Californian, during a banquet in Hollywood tendered to the Pacific Coast crusaders during their tour of two states, and George I. Warren, Victoria Publicist, commented on the subject, was called upon to reply to the speech.

British Columbia had so many charms and its friendship with neighboring states was so great, Mr. Kerr said, that even the imaginary boundary line was unnecessary. He asked Mr. Warren if the British Columbians in the party could not use their influence to bring about annexation.

Mr. Warren's reply was brief. If Hollywood felt that way about it, he said, it was a pity that city was not closer. It would make a nice little suburb for Victoria. There was only one other time on the tour when a threatening international note was introduced and that was when P. C. Rawling of Vancouver gave an eloquent address at Stockton on the eighteenth anniversary of the gold rush, when the difference of opinion was shown to exist.

direct incentive to building construction.

The council voted to invest $35,000 of sinking funds through A. E. Ames and Company, and J. B. Pennington, and Son, in debentures to yield 5.10 per cent. A grant of $150 was voted towards the annual sports of the city.

Following a recent fire scare in the City Market Building, the pottery kiln placed in one of the rooms near the Friendly Help Society, was ordered banished.

SAN FRANCISCO PAYS TRIBUTE TO CANADIANS

City Hall Ablaze to Greet British Columbia Party on Publicity Tour

San Francisco's City Hall with its thousands of electric lights blazed a welcome in their honor, Mayor James Rolph and members of the Board of Supervisors were among the greeting party and Victoria representatives were given a place on the rostrum when the six Canadian representatives on the Pacific Coast paid a second visit to the Golden Gate city after the scheduled tour had finished.

The San Francisco demonstration and welcome to Canadians was one of the most outstanding features of the tour said George I. Warren, Victoria and Island Publicity Commissioner, who returned yesterday. The Canadians were met on their arrival and escorted to the city hall. Mr. Warren was conducted to the mayor's rostrum and introduced by the mayor in turn introduced the other Canadians in the party. The Victoria Commissioner and S. D. Harrison, president of the B.C. branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and A. E. Craddock, manager of the Automobile Club of B.C., gave brief talks to the supervisors.

Responses were made by Mayor Rolph, Supervisor J. L. Haynes and Supervisor Andrew J. Gallagher. John L. McNab, well-known California orator, was called upon to give an address of welcome to the Canadians. Mr. Warren pointed out the object of the tour was not only to promote goodwill among the people of the Pacific Coast from British Columbia to California, but to develop the tourist trade of the coast and make the Pacific slope the playground of the world.

The visitors watched the business of the city of San Francisco conducted and taken around the city in automobiles.

CRANE DEVISES BUDGET PLAN TO AID OWNERS

Modern Plumbing Now Installed in Homes on Budget Payment System

Seventy years ago the founder of Crane Limited, for his tiny foundry, adopted a creed: "an honest and honest business in the strictest honesty and fairness; to avoid all deception and trickery; to deal fairly with both customers and competitors; to be liberal and just toward employees; and to put my whole mind on the business."

This creed, to which all Crane growth is traceable, is still strictly adhered to as the basic policy of this vast business. From the parent office have developed, one by one, branches and sales offices which now blanket the world, in Canada, the United States, Great Britain, France, Belgium, and Ceylon. Every plumbing and heating need, for the most modest or elaborate building, every valve, fitting, steam specialty or fabricated piping requirement for a crowd, is resolved to be filled through branches in all the principal cities in Canada, Montreal, Ottawa and Victoria offices have completely equipped exhibit rooms in connection with the latest improvements in fixtures can be seen.

In order to help beautify the home Crane Limited have introduced a budget plan which will bring modern plumbing and heating within the reach of all. The new budget plan is very simple. Plumbing contractors will gladly estimate the cost of modernizing homes and explain how easily it can be afforded. The improvements are fully installed in the home before the owner pays the small initial payment, the balance being divided into small monthly payments.

"NAUGHTY WIFE" CREATES GALE OF LAUGHTER

Gordon McLeod Players Produce Amusing Comedy at Royal Victoria Theatre

"The Naughty Wife" is the intriguing title of the comedy chosen by the Gordon McLeod Players for their production at the Royal Victoria Theatre this week, the last but one before this talented company says goodbye to "Victory". "The Naughty Wife" is one of the most amusing of the many comedies with which they have regaled their patrons. The situations varying at times upon the risqué, but never offensive, with sparkling dialogue and subtle comedy throughout its three acts, the audience laughing heartily and applauding vigorously.

Hilary Farrington, a successful novelist, finds little leisure to devote to his young wife of year, and Farrington, and she turns for consolation to Darrell McKnight, a philanderer with a gift for coaxing misadventure. Through McKnight, a widow who has been having an affair with McKnight, Farrington discovers that his wife and the gay Lothario plan to elope, and he insists upon placing his summer bungalow in Sussex at their disposal. Shortly after their elopement and arrival at the cottage, Farrington joins the lovers and the embarrased position is made more ludicrous by the fortuitous arrival of Mrs. Gail, her car having run out of petrol. The combination of circumstances prove too much for the gay McKnight, who, in spite of fortification with numerous whiskeys and sodas, vents his displeasure on his wife and she in disgust turns again to her husband, while Mrs. Gail achieves her end and re-captures McKnight, and leaves him off to London for a special license and a new wife.

In "Loiselle, the misunderstood wife, Miss Margaret St. Barbe-West had the sort of role in which she excels. Interpreting the character with much charm, convincing variety of mood, and a subtle sense of comedy. Miss Lilian Christine made a vivacious and fascinating woman of this role, with a scintillating wit able to cope with the most seasoned philanderer, while Miss Ann Farrer carried the only other female role with a sure hand.

Gordon McLeod gave a clever study of the novelist husband, while Claude Bailey was excellent as the philanderer McKnight. James McGrath made an all-too-brief appearance as the Bishop, uncle of Loiselle, and in the plot to avert the scandal of her elopement, the scene of her elopement, while George Thurman and Roland Gilchrist carried minor roles with skill owing to the sudden illness of one of the players, with success.

"The Naughty Wife" will be repeated for the whole of this week at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

The "Bicycle Built for Two" number in the dancing-lets of "Show of Shows," the Warner Brothers and Vitaphone singing, talking, dancing super-revue in technical now at the Dominion Theatre, calls for every performance for uproarious applause.

It is a comedy sketch having to do with the mauve decade when the bicycle held the stage as the means of really hasty locomotion.

Many of the loveliest of the youthful stars are in the cast of this number. Lois Wilson, Gertrude Olmsted, Pauline Garon, Sally Eilers, Edna Murphy and Jacqueline Logan. The masculine part of the line-up presents Grant Withers, William Collier Jr., Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Jack Muthall, Chester Morris and William Bakewell.

The moustached and bespectacled Chester Conklin has the part of the traffic cop who "moderates the transports" of the scorching bicyclists.

"Show of Shows" has scores upon scores of the most celebrated stars of stage and screen and over half a thousand people in the ensembles. There are many dance and musical aggregations and color and melody make a record production.

MOTHER LOVE IS CHIEF MORAL OF CAPITOL STORY

Who says that women can't agree when working for a common cause? There is no proof in support of that theory in "Sarah and Son," which plays at the Capitol Theatre all this week. For in this romance-drama of mother love and high ambitions three women are the principal collaborators.

First is Ruth Chatterton, the charming star, in the role of Sarah. Then there is Dorothy Arner, the talented director of the picture. And the third is Loiselle, a gifted poet and playwright, who wrote the scenario from the original Timothy Shea novel.

Here are three women, each an artist in her own field, but yet not one of them so temperamental that she could not work in pleasant concord with her sisters. "Sarah and Son" went through the hard days of production without the least hitch.

PLENTY OF COMEDY AND STRONG CAST IN COLISEUM FILM

The League of Nations has for its objective world peace. In "The Cock Eyed World" the "League of Nations" cause more real fighting than a half dozen revolutions. Meaning that Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen of "What Price Glory" are still fighting over pretty girls—though the war is more than ten years old.

They are still in the Marines and are seen the world wide, Nicaragua, and other countries, including America and always intrigued by a pair of shapely limbs.

That most intriguing "Top Sergeant Flagg" and "Line Sergeant Quirt" are those of the beautiful Lily Damita for whose affections they were bitter war. Likewise Loiselle, a beautiful Russian, and Jean Barry, an American beauty, are causes of a series of battles. Geography means nothing to them insofar as pretty girls are concerned. All of which makes for much hilarity in this Raoul Walsh effort, "The Cock Eyed World," which is an all-talking Fox Movietone picture showing this week at the Coliseum Theatre.

STIRRING PICTURE OF EX-PRISON GIRL SHOWS AT COLUMBIA

"What Money Can Buy," now showing at the Columbia Theatre, is a screen adaptation of the big Lyceum success written by Arthur Shirley and Benjamin Landeck, and the story has also been published in serial form. It is a melodrama based on the theme that money is omnipotent in the purchase of human souls.

In the film the object of experiment is a girl discharged from prison and ready to take any job to make a living. A roue makes a bet that his money can buy her. He gets her a job as a mannequin, spends pounds having her "beautified" and dressed, then invites her to a wild party at his house with the intention of giving his wife evidence for divorce.

SPLENDID CAST PLAYS IN GREAT PICTURE OF AIR

One of the year's most exciting talking and sound pictures is now at the Playhouse Theatre. It is "The Lost Zeppelin," a Tiffany production, featuring Conway Tearle, Virginia Valli and Ricardo Cortez.

"The Lost Zeppelin" is a combination of romance and adventure. The thread of thrilling romance follows the huge dirigible to the antarctic regions, where there is a smashing climax. With everybody talking about Zeppelins and with ambitious North Pole plans for the giant Graf Zeppelin, this picture has tremendous interest aside from the absorbing story it tells.
